WASHINGTON.

Passage of the Bank Bill in the Senate by a Large Majority.

Proposed Reorganization of the Diplomatic Service.

The Burial of Confederate Dead in the Antietam Cemetery.

Special Dispatche to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Wednesday, June 17.

THE BANK BILL.

After a further discussion of three hours to-day, Mr. Sherman pressed the Bank bill to a vote, and it was passed by a large majority. It is shorn of most of its important as well as objectionable features, however. The first section, which prohibited city banks in redemption cities from paying interest on country bank balances was stricken out, and the increased circulation feature was deprived of all tendency to expansion, by providing that the twenty millions should be taken from the States which had more than their proportion, and distributed among those which had less. This is about all there is of the bill as it passed the Senate, and its chances of passing the House are much increased by the amendments made in the Senate. The bill is given in full elsewhere.

THE CHINESE EMBASSY RECEPTION.

The reception of the Chinese Embassy in the Senate to-day was a very brief and dignified affair. Messrs. Sumner, Sherman and Hendricks acted as the Committee of Escort. At 1 o'clock they were announced. Mr. Sumner escorting Mr. Burlingame, and Mr. Sherman and Mr. Hendricks the two Mandarins. They were welcomed in half a dozen words by Mr. Wade, and on motion of Mr. Anthony a recess of ten minutes was ordered, when the Senators were severally introduced. This over, the Senate resumed business and the Embassy departed. The galleries were well filled with gaily dressed lady spectators. The members of the Embassy are making a very favorable impression upon all with whom they come in contact.

RECONSTRUCTION.

The Reconstruction Committee, at their meeting to-day, agreed to postpone the bill dividing Texas into two States, for two weeks.

THE IRON-CLAD SALES.

The Joint Retrenchment Committee did not make their report on the iron-clad sales to-day as was expected. It is understood that they are considering whether they shall make any recommendations concerning the international aspect of the matter. Mr. Randall, (Dem.,) of the Committee, will probably submit a minority report.

PROTECTION OF AMERICAN COMMERCE.

The time of the House to-day was principally occupied in a long and able discussion of the special order, being a bill reported from the Committee on Commerce, allowing a drawback of duty upon all materials entering into ship building. The discussion lasted until the close of the session, when the bill was laid upon the table by a decided majority. The opposition to it came from the mining interests of Pennsylvania, the copper interests of Michigan, and the agricultural interests of the West generally.

THE AMENDATORY BANKRUPT BILL.

The Senate Judiciary Committee have agreed to report back the House Amendatory Bankrupt bill adversely, with the recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed. The feature of the amended bill, it will be remembered, was the extension of time when the 50 per cent. clause should take effect, to Jan. 1, 1869.

REORGANIZATION OF THE DIPLOMATIC SERVICE.

The Joint Retrenchment Committee will shortly report favorably upon Senator Patterson's bill reorganizing the Diplomatic service. Mr. Patterson, who has carefully matured it, will accompany it with an elaborate report, but it is not expected that action will be had on the bill at the present session.

FLORIDA SENATORIAL ELECTION.

The Florida Legislature to-day ballotted for United States Senators. A. S. Welch, formerly of Michigan, was elected for the short term; the ballot for the long term stood: Osborn, thirty-one; Hart, twenty-one; Marvin, sixteen. Welch was formerly a Professor in the University of Michigan. Osborn was formerly Chief of Artillery on the staff of Gen. Howard, and was wounded in the service. Hart was one of the strongest Southern loyalists. Marvin was Provisional Governor under the Johnsonian policy.

THE SEPARATE TAX BILL.

The Ways and Means Committee are not likely to report the separate Tax bill before Friday or Saturday. They propose to embody all the valuable features of the bill first reported which relate to whisky and tobacco, and this alone will make a bill of one hundred pages. As to the tax on whisky, Gen. Logan is making a strong effort to keep it at $2, but it will either be left blank for the House to fix, or it will be reduced to less than a dollar by the Committee—probably 75 cents.

WEST POINT AND NAVAL ACADEMY CANDIDATES.

The Committee by whom the candidates for West Point from the Fourth District of New-Jersey, were examined on Thursday last at Newark, reported in favor of S. N. Holmes, of Morris County, as having passed the best examination, and in accordance with their report he has received the nomination for appointment to fill the vacancy that occurs in the Fourth District, in October, 1869. Wm. D. Rosencrantz, of Bergen County, Fourth District, has been appointed to the Naval Academy. Hon. John Hill is the representative from this district.

THE CASE OF SURRATT.

The counsel for the prosecution are endeavoring to find a new indictment against Surratt, based on the charge of conspiracy to murder. Witnesses are being examined by the Grand Jury to this end at the present time. If both parties are not ready to proceed with the trial on Monday next, Surratt will be admitted to bail in the sum of $50,000.

THE ARKANSAS BILL.

If the President does not veto the Arkansas bill, it will become a law to-morrow without his signature.

Associated Press Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, June 17.

THE ANTIETAM CEMETERY.

Representative Washburn, of Indiana, made a report from the Committee on Military Affairs to-day, on the subject of the cemetery at Antietam. The cemetery is not, and never has been, except in name, a national cemetery. The original purchase was solely by the State of Maryland as a burial place for all who fell on either side at the battle of Antietam. By a subsequent act of the Maryland Legislature it was devoted in perpetuity as a national cemetery for the purpose of the burial and final resting place of the remains of the soldiers who fell at the battle of Antietam or other points north of the Potomac River, during the invasion of Lee in the Summer or Fall of 1862, or who died in consequence of wounds received in said battle, or during the said invasion. Under the original act, or subsequent legislation, providing for the burying of Confederate dead, but separate and apart from those who had fallen in defence of our flag, fourteen States made donations for the purpose set forth, and appointed trustees. Whether the States so acting were deceived or not, the Committee have no means of knowing, but if they were deceived it must have been through inexcusable negligence on the part of their authorities, as full and explicit notice was contained in the charter. The Committee say that last May a Committee of the Board was appointed to purchase and inclose additional grounds adjoining the present cemetery, for the purpose of interring the Confederate dead therein in accordance with the law of Maryland, and the Southern States were invited to make appropriations. The Committee do not deem it necessary to discuss the question whether Maryland acted wisely or not in making provision for the Confederate dead, nor do they deem it necessary to say to the States donating that they were in error, as such discussion comes too late to remedy the evil; and believing that the Trustees have only been carrying out the act of their incorporation, in such a manner that it may give as little offence as possible to those whose friends, falling in the defence of our flag, now sleep peacefully in the cemetery, they ask that the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

EQUAL RIGHTS.

The Senate Committee on the District of Columbia to-day made a report on the resolution heretofore referred to them, instructing them to inquire into the alleged facts of Mrs. Kate Brown's (the colored women in charge of the Ladies' Retiring Room of the Senate) forcible ejection from a passenger-car of the Alexandria and Washington Railroad Company in February last; and also instructing them to inquire as to what further legislation is necessary to protect the rights of passengers.

The Committee say that they find the facts to be as heretofore stated; that Congress has already provided in the charter that the Company shall not make any discrimination on account of race or color; that Mrs. Brown has instituted a suit against the Company for damages for injuries sustained; and that the policeman who ejected her from the car has since been dismissed from the service of the Company. The repeal of the charter, the Committee say, would inflict great injury to travel, but if the result of the legal proceedings which Mrs. Brown has instituted shall not be satisfactory, the resolution can be taken from the table and the charter of the Company be repealed, or such measures adopted as shall at the same time be considered necessary to protect the rights of passengers upon that road, and they, therefore, recommend that the resolution for the present be laid upon the table.

THE CAPTORS OF JEFF. DAVIS.

The bill reported from the House Committee of Claims to-day provides that the reward of $100,000 offered for the capture of Jefferson Davis, by the President of the United States, in his proclamation of May 2, 1865, shall be paid as follows: To James H. Wilson, of Illinois, late Major-General of Volunteers, $3,000; to Benjamin D. Pritchard, of Michigan, late Lieutenant-Colonel of the Fourth Michigan Cavalry, $3,000; to Joseph A. O. Yeoman, of Iowa, late Captain of the First Ohio Cavalry, $3,000; and to the following officers, non-commissioned officers and privates, in proportion to the monthly pay proper to which they were respectively entitled in the grades which they held at the time of said capture. Here follow the names of one hundred and forty-four officers and men of the Fourth Michigan Cavalry that were present on the morning of May 10; of seventy-five officers and enlisted men of the First Wisconsin Cavalry, and of twenty-seven others, being the detachment accompanying Capt. Yeoman, principally of Ohio.) The bill provides that to the heir at law and legal representatives of such soldiers named therein as were killed in action at the capture, or have since deceased, the share proportion or claim of such killed or deceased soldier shall be paid. The sum of $100,000 is appropriated to carry the act into effect.

VISITORS TO THE WHITE-HOUSE.

A large number of vistors were in attendance at the Executive Mansion to-day, including many ladies and several individuals of prominence. A committee of the citizens of Washington, including the Mayor ad interim and several members of the Conservative wing of the City Councils, had an interview with the President with reference to the bill which has passed Congress relating the municipal officers. Gens. Rousseau and Hancock, and Senators Henderson and Buckalew, also had interviews with Mr. Johnson.

THE WASHINGTON CITY MAYORALTY.

In the District Court to-day, Judge Fisher recognized Mr. Sayles J. Bowen as Mayor of Washington de facto, and said he did not think a decent regard for common sense would prompt him to take any notice of the appointment of the so-called ad interim Mayor; and under the facts presented he also recognized Col. Cook as Corporation Attorney, in the place of Joseph H. Bradley, Jr.

CORPS OF JUDGE ADVOCATES.

The Secretary of War to-day sent to the Senate the draft of a bill providing that the corps of Judge Advocates of the army shall be fixed at ten members, and the President is hereby authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to fix all vacancies which have occurred or may hereafter occur therein. The bill is intended to remove doubts which have arisen whether these officers constitute a permanent corps in which vacancies may be filled.

ARMY APPOINTMENTS.

By direction of the Secretary of War, Brevet Capt. George Williams, First Lieutenant United States Army, and Second Lieutenant D. Q. Rousseau, Fifth United States Infantry, have been assigned to duty as Aids-de-Camp to Gen. Rousseau, commanding the Department of the Columbia, from Nov. 23, 1867.

LOCATION OF POWDER MAGAZINES.

Commander Joseph Green, United States Navy, has been appointed President, and Capt. J. R. Mullany and Commander John Lee Davis members of a Board to select suitable locations for powder magazines, agreeably to the act of Congress.

AN OMISSION.

The names of Messrs. Ward and Van Wyck were yesterday unintentionally omitted in the published negative vote on the motion to lay on the table Mr. Bingham's motion to request the Senate to return the Clerks' 20 per cent. bill.

RECONSTRUCTION OF TEXAS.

The Committee on Reconstruction had a meeting to-day on the bill to divide Texas into three States. They voted to postpone its consideration until the 1st of December, by a vote of 5 yeas to 4 nays, but, at the request of Mr. Boutwell, his vote was reconsidered and further action thereon deferred till to-day two weeks.

SENOR ROMERO.

Senor Romero has returned to Washington to present to the President his letters of recall as Minister for Mexico, and to transact the unfinished business of importance to that Republic.

THE VIRGINIA WHISKY FRAUDS.

The Assistant United States District Attorney for Virginia has arrived here for instructions as to the particular penitentiary in which the five officials, recently convicted of whisky frauds, shall be confined.

MARINE DISASTER.

Under date of June 1 Vice-Consul J. C. Crissan, at Turk's Island, W. I., announces to the State Department the loss by shipwreck, on the night of the 19th of May last, of the American brig Randolph, of Boston, on the reef lying to the north of the Providence Caicos. The Randolph was from Calais, Me., bound for Cienfuegos, with lumber. She was built at Cherryfield, Me., in the year 1855, was 290 tons burden, and was owned by Henry Lincoln, of Brookline, Mass., and others.

AFFAIRS IN TEXAS.

The following telegram was received last night and read in both the House of Representatives and the Senate to-day:

AUSTIN, Texas, June 16, 1868.

To Hons. B. F. Wade and Schuyler Colfax, President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives:

I am directed by the Texas Convention to forward you the following resolutions adopted this day, duly attested copies of which will be sent you by mail. The immediate action of Congress is earnestly requested by the loyal people of this State:

Whereas, Lawlessness and crime exist to such an alarming extent in portions of this State, it is deemed proper to do all in the power of the Convention to protect life and property, and for the suppression of crime; therefore, be it Resolved, That this Convention respectfully urge upon the Congress of the United States the necessity of authorizing the organization, by this body, of a military force in the several counties in this State, to act in conjunction with, and under the direction of, the military commander therein, for the protection of the lives and property of the citizens, now every day being preyed upon by assassins and robbers to an extent unparalleled in the history of civilized communities in times of peace, and which, if not speedily arrested, must result in the destruction of social order.

Resolved, That, if protection is not speedily provided in some form by the National Government, the loyal and law-abiding citizens of Texas will be compelled in the exercise of the sacred right of self-defence, to organize for their own protection.

Resolved, That this Convention have full confidence in Brevet Major-Gen. J. J. Reynolds, Commander of the District of Texas, and that, to the extent of the means placed at his disposal, he will give protection and preserve peace.

E. J. DAVIS,
President of the Convention.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION.

SENATE....WASHINGTON, Wednesday, June 17.

AFFAIRS IN TENNESSEE.

The Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the Constitutional Convention of Texas, transmitting resolutions adopted by the Convention, requesting a change in the law at the earliest moment, authorizing the Commander of that district to appoint Registers of Elections. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

LAW RELATING TO JUDGE ADVOCATES.

Also, a communication from the Secretary of War, transmitting a draft of the proposed law relating to Judge-Advocates of the Army. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Also, a communication from Major-Gen. Sheridan, Commander of the District of Missouri, urging that the Central Pacific Railroad be compelled to extend their line from Atchison to Fort Leavenworth. Referred to the Committee on the Pacific Railroad.

MERCHANTS' AND SHIPOWNERS' PETITION.

Mr. Sumner presented a memorial of merchants and shipowners of Boston, representing that hostilities between Spain, Chili, Ecuador and other South American Republics having ceased since 1866, though not recognized by Spain, they have a right to deal with either of these Powers as though a treaty of peace had been ratified between them and Spain, and asking protection from the Committee on Foreign Relations.

THE ASHBURN MURDER.

Mr. Davis presented a petition from Wm. A. Shepley, representing that his son is confined by the military authorities, without the privilege of consulting friend or counsel and denied every right conferred by the Constitution and laws upon the citizen, on a charge of being concerned in the death of George Ashburn, who was killed in a house of ill-fame, and asking the intervention of Congress in his behalf.

Mr. Davis asked for the reading of the petition. The House, after a portion was read, moved to refer it to the Judiciary Committee, and it was so referred.

DUTIES ON RELIGIOUS BOOKS.

Mr. Wilson introduced a joint resolution to remit the duties on certain religious books donated to the people of the United States, which was referred to the Committee on Finance.

SALES OF DAMAGED PROPERTY.

Mr. Wilson also introduced a joint resolution authorizing the sale of damaged or unserviceable arms, ordnance and ordnance stores, which was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

BANKRUPTCY.

Mr. Trumbull, from the Committee on the Judiciary, recommended the indefinite postponement of several bills in relation to the establishment of a uniform system of bankruptcy. Agreed to.

NATIONAL CURRENCY BILL.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, the bill in relation to National Currency was again taken up.

Mr. Cameron took the floor and denounced the first section, forbidding any National bank from paying interest on the balances of any other, as having been got up for the purpose of enabling the city banks to use the funds of the country banks without paying for them. He would prefer that the subject should be deferred until the next session. Since it was to be considered, he moved to strike out the first section.

Mr. Chandler also opposed the first section, and replied to the argument of Mr. Cattell of yesterday.

RECEPTION OF THE CHINESE EMBASSY.

Mr. Sprague took the floor, but was shortly interrupted at 1 o'clock by the announcement of the Chinese Embassy, and Mr. Burlingame entered arm in arm with Mr. Sumner—the two chief Mandarins being escorted by Messrs. Sherman and Hendricks—whereupon, having proceeded within the bar,

Mr. Sumner said: Mr. President, we present Mr. Burlingame and his associates of the Chinese Embassy to the Senate of the United States.

The President pro tem.—I welcome Mr. Burlingame and his associates of the Chinese Embassy to the Senate of the United States, and the Committee will conduct them to the seats prepared for them.

The Embassy took their seats in a semi-circle facing the Senators—Mr. Burlingame in the centre.

Mr. Anthony, rising—Mr. President, I move that the business be suspended for twenty minutes, in order that the Senate may have an opportunity of paying their respects to the Embassy.

The motion was agreed to, and the Senators, for the most part, flocked around the Orientals, shaking hands and engaging in conversation, through the interpreters. The galleries in the meantime had become pretty well filled, in anticipation of the scene, recalling the days of impeachment. At 1:15 o'clock the President pro tem. resumed the chair, and again called the Senate to order. The Embassy retired in the order in which they came, without ceremony. Scarce had the last flowing skirts cleared the door, when the President pro tem. announced that the question is, on striking out the first section of the bill, and the Senator from Rhode Island (Mr. Sprague) has the floor.

RESUMPTION OF THE DEBATE.

When the confusion, resulting from the speedy vacation of the galleries, had ceased, Mr. Sprague resumed the floor. He pronounced the action of the Senate yesterday, in agreeing to take from the excess of the banking capital in the Eastern States the proposed twenty millions increase, a breach of a solemn contract entered into for the benefit of the nation in its time of trial. The opinion of bankers had too large a share in the administration of the Government. He was opposed to all propositions for inflation. He said there is no road out of our dilemma until the national securities are brought up to the value expressed on their face. He would vote for the motion to strike out, and hoped the whole subject would be laid on the table.

Mr. Hendricks would also vote to strike out the first section, as in his opinion the matter should be left to the banking interest to regulate for themselves.

MATTERS IN TEXAS.

Shortly before 2 o'clock the Chair laid before the Senate a telegraphic dispatch from the Constitutional Convention of Texas, dated Austin, Texas, June 16, forwarding resolutions, just adopted, on which they ask the immediate action of Congress. The resolutions, after reciting the lawlessness existing in certain portions of the State, urge upon Congress the necessity of authorizing the organization by the Convention of a military force in the several counties to act in connection with the Military Commander, in whom they express their confidence, for the purpose of protecting the lives and property of their citizens, now preyed upon by assassins and robbers, and assert that otherwise they will be obliged to organize for their own defence.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

THE DEBATE RESUMED.

Mr. Williams opposed the motion to strike out the first section of the pending bill. He insisted that the flow of banking capital to the East is largely caused by this principle of paying interest on balances. It was sought by the banks, not by the people. He was opposed also to the proposition to arbitrarily withdraw twenty millions of circulation from one section of the country and give it to another.

Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, contended that the bill gives to the city banks an advantage over the country banks, as the former will thereby receive a large amount of deposits upon which they will pay no interest, while the latter will be deprived of their profits.

Mr. Howe argued that the matter should be left to the course of business, without interference by legislation.

The motion to strike out was agreed to by a vote of 26 to 11, as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Anthony, Buckalew, Cameron, Chandler, Cole, Conkling, Cragin, Davis, Doolittle, Edmunds, Ferry, Harlan, Hendricks, Howard, Howe, McCreery, Morrill of Maine, Patterson of New-Hampshire, Patterson of Tennessee, Pomeroy, Sprague, Stewart, Trumbull, Vickers, Wade, Yates—26.

Nays—Messrs. Cattell, Fessenden, Henderson, Morgan, Morrill of Vermont, Sherman, Sumner, Tipton, Van Winkle, Willey, Wilson—11.

Mr. Frelinghuysen, who would have voted yea, was paired with Mr. Drake, and Mr. Williams, who would have voted nay, with Mr. Thayer.

Mr. Sherman then offered this substitute for the fifth section, providing

That for the better distribution of the National Bank currency an amount not exceeding twenty millions may be issued to banking associations organized in States and Territories having a less banking circulation than $5 per inhabitant, and that within one year the same shall be withdrawn pro rata from banks in States and Territories having an amount in excess of their proportion, under the act of March 3, 1864, to ascertain which the Comptroller of the Currency is to make a statement showing the amount to be retired by each of such banks, and to make a requisition upon them, commencing with those having the largest excess; and in case of failure to furnish, it is made the duty of the Comptoller of the Currency to sell at auction a sufficient amount of the bonds held to secure the circulation of such banks.

The bill having passed through the Committee, Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, again offered his amendment, voted down in Committee, to strike out section five, and insert:

That upon the issue of any such National circulation, provided for in this section, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required to permanently withdraw an equal amount of United States notes.

Rejected without a division.

Mr. Fessenden moved to amend by adding the following:

Provided, That the circulation herein authorized shall be issued only as circulation is withdrawn, so that the aggregate circulation shall not at any time exceed $300,000,000.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Sherman's amendment was also agreed to.

Mr. Ramsey offered an amendment, prepared, he said, by the Comptroller of the Currency, as an additional section, authorizing changes of name or location by National Banks upon application to the Comptroller of the Currency and public notice given, which was rejected by a vote of 11 to 23.

Mr. Davis offered the following as an additional section:

"That all laws imposing any tax upon the circulation notes, or notes of issue, made by any bank of any State or Territory, or imposing any tax in any form upon such banks, be and the same are hereby repealed."

It was rejected without division.

The bill then passed by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Buckalew, Cattell, Chandler, Cole, Cragin, Davis, Doolittle, Ferry, Harlan, Henderson, Howard, McCreery, Nye, Patterson of New-Hampshire, Patterson of Tennessee, Pomeroy, Ramsey, Ross, Sherman, Stewart, Sumner, Van Winkle, Wade, Willey, Wilson—25.

Nays—Messrs. Anthony, Bayard, Cameron, Conkling, Edmunds, Fessenden, Hendricks, Howe, Morgan, Sprague, Trumbull, Vickers, Williams, Yates—14.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont, who would have voted yea, was paired off with Mr. Morrill of Maine, opposed.

The bill now goes to the House.

The following is the bill as passed:

Section 1st. Be it enacted, &c., That every National Banking Association selected as a depository of public moneys under the provisions of section 45, of the National Currency act, shall deposit United States bonds as security for such deposits; and whenever the public moneys deposited in such Association shall exceed 90 per centum of the par value of the bonds so held by the Treasurer as security, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer forthwith, by draft or otherwise, to reduce the amount of such deposits to a sum not exceeding 90 per centum of the bonds deposited as herein specified. If any person or agent of any Association designated as a depository of public moneys, shall pay or offer to pay any money or other valuable consideration either directly or indirectly for the purpose of obtaining or retaining deposits of public moneys, or if any officer or agent of the Government shall receive any money or other valuable consideration, directly or indirectly, for making such deposit of public moneys, such officer or agent shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $1,000, or imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than five years, or both, at the discretion of the Court.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That section 42 of said act be so amended as to provide, within ninety days from the date of the notice served upon the Comptroller of the Currency by any National Banking Association, that its shareholders have voted to go into liquidation, as provided in said section, the said association shall pay over to the Treasurer of the United States the amount of its outstanding notes in lawful money of the United States, and take up the bonds which said Association has on deposit with the Treasurer for the security of its circulating notes, which bonds shall be assigned to the bank in the manner specified in the nineteenth section of said act, in default of which the Comptroller shall sell said bonds to the highest bidder, at public auction, at the Stock Exchange in the City of New-York, and from the proceeds thereof shall pay over to the Treasurer of the United States in lawful money an amount equal to the outstanding circulation of such Association, and shall pay over any surplus remaining to the officers of the Association, and any association which has heretofore gone into liquidation under the provisions of the section to which this is an amendment, shall pay over to the Treasurer lawful money equal in amount to its outstanding circulation within thirty days from the date of the passage of this act; in default of which its bonds shall be sold as above provided, and from that time the outstanding notes shall be redeemed at the Treasury of the United States, and the said Association and the stockholders thereof shall be discharged from all liability therefor: Provided, That any association winding up its affairs for the purpose of consolidation with another bank, shall not be compelled to pay to the Treasurer of the United States the amount of its outstanding circulation in lawful money, nor shall its bonds be sold as above provided.

Sec 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be allowed to Receivers of National Banking Associations, appointed in accordance with the provisions of the National Currency act, in full compensation for their services, a salary of $1,500 per annum, and in addition thereto, a commission of two per cent. upon the first $100,000; a commission of one-half of one per cent. upon all sums above $100,000, if not exceeding $500,000; a commission of one-quarter of one per centum on all sums over $500,000, that may be selected, which salary and commission shall be paid by the Comptroller of the Currency out of any moneys realized from the assets of the bank, so in the hands of the receiver; Provided, that the payment of one-half the commissions may be reserved in the discretion of the Comptroller until the affairs of the bank are finally closed, which sum shall then be paid to the Receiver, or in case more than one Receiver has acted, it shall be apportioned among the several Receivers by the Comptroller of the Currency, according to equity; and all the Receivers appointed, as aforesaid, shall be considered officers or agents of the Government, and shall have the right to bring suits in the United States Courts, and may invest the assets of the bank in their hands in bonds of the United States while the affairs of the bank are in liquidation, which bonds shall be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States, subject to the order of the Comptroller of the Curency and the Receivers shall also make a report to the Comptroller of all their acts and proceedings, and the Comptroller shall be authorized to sell such bonds, from time to time, in order to make the dividend and payments provided for in the 50th section of the act to which this act is supplementary; and the Judge of the United States District Court for the district in which such suits are brought shall fix the fees or compensation to be allowed to the Attorneys for such Receivers, having due reference to the amount of labor performed, and to the interests of the creditors of the bank.

Sec. 4. That to secure a better distribution of the national banking currency there may be issued circulation notes to banking associations organized in States and Territories having a less national banking circulation than $5 per inhabitant; but the amount of such circulation shall not exceed $20,000,000, and the circulation herein authorized shall within one year be withdrawn pro rata from banks organized in States having a circulation exceeding that provided for by the act of March 3, 1865, entitled an act to amend an act entitled an act to provide a national currency secured by pledge of United States bonds and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof to ascertain which, the Comptroller of the Currency shall make a statement showing the amount of circulation to be retired by each of such banks, and shall make a requisition for such amount upon such bank, commencing with the banks having the largest excess of circulation, and upon failure of such bank to return the amount so required within the year aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Comptroller of the Currency to sell at public auction in New-York an amount of the bonds deposited by said bank as security for its circulation equal to the circulation to be withdrawn from such bank, and with the proceeds to redeem so much of the notes of such bank, as they come into the Treasury, as will equal the amount required from it; provided that the circulation herein authorized shall be issued only as the circulation is withdrawn, so that the aggregate of circulation shall not at any time exceed $300,000,000.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Mr. Howard tried to call up the bill relative to the Union Pacific Railroad Company, but a motion to go into executive session prevailed.

REMOVAL OF POLITICAL DISABILITIES.

In the meantime the bill for the removal of political disabilities came over from the House with the request for a Committee of Conference on the amendments, which was ordered.

After a short executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

CONTESTED ELECTION CASE.

Mr. Cook, from the Committee on Elections, made a report on the contested election case of McKee against Young, from the Ninth Congressional District of Kentucky, with a resolution that Samuel McKee, the contestant, was duly elected. He gave notice that he would call for the report early next week.

GAS FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

Mr. Washburn, of Indiana, offered a resolution, calling on the President of the Washington Gas Light Company for information as to the quantity of illuminating gas furnished to the Government from June 30, 1865, to May 31, 1868; the amount received for the same, &c. Adopted.

PUBLIC LANDS.

Mr. Julian introduced a bill for the sale of the Hot Spring Reservation, in Arkansas. Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

THE TAX BILL.

Mr. Ingersoll offered a resolution directing the Committee on Ways and Means to consider and report on the subject of a tax on the capital, deposits and circulation of the National and other banks of issue in connection, with the bill directed to be prepared.

Mr. Van Wyck asked leave to offer a preamble and resolutions on the subject of American naturalized citizens, which were read, as follows:

Whereas, Foreign nations should not be allowed to raise the question whether American citizenship was acquired by birth or adoption, the rights of citizenship being the same to all citizens, and

Whereas, This Republic has pledged its faith to persons of all nations that residence, renunciation of former allegiance, and compliance with our laws, makes them citizens here, and the honor of the nation is pledged that such promises be redeemed, no matter whence came the citizen or however powerful the nation that denies it; and

Whereas, Great Britain has, in defiance of the law of nations—a portion of her own history and the results of the war of 1812—lately established in her courts the dogma, "once a subject always a subject," and has in repeated instances refused to recognize the rights of American citizens by denying them the privilege of mixed juries, treating as subjects of her realm many of our citizens who had perilled life in defence of our Government during the war of the rebellion, in some cases arresting and imprisoning for words spoken in this country: therefore, be it

Resolved, That the President of the United States immediately demand from any foreign country, who may have imprisoned American citizens for words spoken in this country, acknowledgment as complete and ample as was made by this Government in the apology for the arrest of Mason and Slidell; and if such apology is denied, he report the fact to Congress for its action. Also, that he demand reparation in all cases where American citizens have been treated as subjects of a foreign power; and that to all such persons now imprisoned the rights herein claimed shall be granted; and that he report to this House what he has done, if anything, to secure such rights and redress the wrongs above set forth.

Mr. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, said that this was a very grave matter. The resolution asserted a great many things about which he knew nothing. He desired to debate the resolution. The resolution giving rise to debate went over under the rule.

THE WHISKY TAX.

Mr. Stevens (of Pennsylvania) offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of reporting a bill to collect the revenues on distilled spirits on the principle of taxing the capacity of the still and apparatus, making due allowance for the waste; to contain provisions like the following:

First. Call in expert builders and operators and ascertain the utmost quantity the still can produce in twenty-four hours' constant running. Second. Let the distiller take out a license for just such time as he may choose to operate, paying or giving good security to pay the tax on all spirits that can be produced within the period of the license. Third. If the distiller shall be found to overrun the period of his license, he shall be subject to imprisonment in the penitentiary. Fourth. If any one shall be found to have distilled spirits without a license, he shall be subject to like imprisonment. Fifth. If there be any unoccupied distillery the key shall be given to a Revenue Officer, who shall be heavily punished if he suffer the premises to go into the hands of any other person for the purpose of using them. Sixth. The keeper of any concealed still shall be heavily punished.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

NATIONAL SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY.

The House resumed as the business of the morning hour the consideration of the bill reported yesterday by Mr. Ingersoll, in reference to the National Safe Deposit Company of the City of Washington. Some of the provisions of the bill, particularly those giving the Company the power of a savings bank and of a Trust Company, were contested and discussed during the morning hour. Finally, on motion of Mr. Benjamin, the bill was laid on the table.

OBSTRUCTIONS AT HELL GATE.

Mr. Chanler presented the petitions of A. W. Griswold and others, Wm. Searles, President of the New-York Stock Exchange, and others; John J. Conover, President of the Mechanics' and Traders' Association, and others, and of Horatio Allen and others, all citizens of New-York, asking an appropriation by Congress for the removal of the obstructions at Hell Gate, and of the rocks in New-York Harbor known as Battery, Diamond and Coenties Reefs.

RECONSTRUCTION.

The Speaker presented the resolutions of the Texas Convention. Referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

THE CAPTURE OF JEFF. DAVIS.

Mr. Washburn, of Massachusetts, from the Committee on Claims, reported a bill to provide for the distribution of the reward offered by the President of the United States for the capture of Jefferson Davis. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

CONFEDERATE DEAD.

Mr. Washburn, of Indiana, from the Committee on Military Affairs, made a report as to the burying of Confederate dead in the Antietam Cemetery. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

PROMOTION OF COMMERCE.

The House then proceeded to the consideration, as a special order, of the bill reported by Mr. Eliot, from the Committee on Commerce to promote American commerce. Mr. Eliot addressed the House on the national importance of the bill, which provides as follows:

"That section 4 of the act entitled 'An act amendatory of certain acts imposing duties upon foreign importations—approved March 3, 1865;' and section 15 of an act entitled 'An act increasing temporarily the duties on imports and for other purposes—approved July 14, 1862,' be, and the same are hereby amended so that the tonnage tax therein imposed shall be collected only from vessels arriving from foreign ports."

Section 2. That a drawback equal to the duties paid, be allowed to shipbuilders on lumber, cordage, iron, copper, chains and anchors actually used and employed by them in the building and rigging of any ship, steamer or other vessel built within the limits of the United States.

The amount of drawback in all cases to be ascertained and to be paid in such manner and under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury; provided that five per centum on the amount of all drawbacks so allowed shall be retained for the use of the United States by the Collectors paying such drawbacks.

Sec. 3. That the fifth section of an act concerning the registering and recording of ships or vessels, approved Dec. 31, 1792, is hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. Hereafter boats or other vessels of the United States, less than twenty tons burden, shall not be enrolled, and no certificate of registry shall be required of them. Such boats or vessels shall be licensed, and shall in every other respect be liable to the rules and regulations and penalties now in force relating to registered and enrolled vessels.

Sec. 5. That the provisions of the act entitled "An Act authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue registers to vessels in certain cases," approved Dec. 23, 1852, are hereby extended to vessels built within the United States, provided the same were not transferred during the rebellion to foreign owners.

Mr. Eliot having stated that under the present system of taxation of articles that enter into shipbuilding, there are no more ships built in this country, argued that a maritime nation must build its own vessels. No commercial country could be a first-class Power unless it built its own vessels, and controlled its own carrying trade. This was the law of commercial life, not the law of the United States only, not the law of England or France only, not the law of to-day alone, not the law by which, alone, Phenicia or Venice controlled the seas, but was the great law of national commercial life, like that law of justice described by Cicero: "There shall not be one law for Rome and another for Athens, not one law for to-day and another for to-morrow, but one enduring law for all people." It was manifest, he said, that if Congress did not interfere, the commerce of the United States would be ruined and the carrying trade left in the control of England. He referred to statistical tables to show that in 1861 one-third of the whole carrying trade of all the world was done by American vessels, and that in 1866 less than one-sixth was done by American vessels. In 1861 479 American vessels entered the port of London, and in 1866 only seventy-one. That was coming pretty near the bottom line. If it went much further in that direction it would be too late to revive that interest, because lex de minimis non curat. It would be necessary to legislate to recreate it. The object of the pending bill was to put the trade into the hands of the men who can build up the navy of the country that they may live and not die.

Mr. O'Neill suggested that the bill in an indirect manner took the taxes off imported material used in the construction of ships, and thereby operated against the interest of domestic producers, which would require to be equalized by allowing a bounty for the use of domestic materials.

Mr. Eliot declined to argue that point as outside of the range of the bill. He read a letter from Donald McKay, the Boston shipbuilder, stating that he had endeavored to get up a convention of shipbuilders to petition Congress; but that he had found that the gentlemen whom he addressed had all left the business since the commencement of the war. The passage of the bill could not affect the Treasury, as at present no revenue was derived from shipbuilding materials, there being no ships now built in the United States. He did not claim that this bill would reëstablish the old condition of things, but he claimed that until the country returned to specie payments—until prices came down and labor became more regulated—something like this was absolutely needful to rescue from destruction the interests of American commerce.

Mr. Morrell moved to amend the second section by providing that in order that American lumber, cordage, iron, copper, chains and anchors might be used in the construction of American vessels, there should be allowed a bounty equal to the drawback of duty on these materials actually in construction.

Mr. Eldridge opposed the amendment, claiming that the bill had steered clear of anything like bounties.

Mr. Blair, of Michigan, opposed the bill, claiming that the depression in the shipbuilding interest was not caused by the laws of the country. Was that the only interest in the country that was depressed? They had been told that the iron interest, the coal oil interest, and almost all other great interests were depressed and ruined. But all that grew out of the condition of the country. The copper interest, in which $50,000,000 of capital was invested, was languishing and suffering for want of sufficient protection; and while he should not be asked to strike down the copper interest—

Mr. Pike reminded Mr. Blair that there was but a very small amount of Michigan copper used in shipbuilding, and said that there was no desire at all to strike at that interest.

Mr. Blair was understood to say that if the copper of foreign countries were admitted free of duty for shipbuilding purposes, the copper mines on Lake Superior would have to be closed. He quoted from Mr. Pike's speech in the House, a few weeks ago, tending to show that he was opposed to the protection of all interest. The proposed drawback on copper was simply a blow struck at that interest, and the arguments in support of it would apply equally as well against the whole protective system of the country. He believed that the enterprise of the American people would remedy all the present difficulties about commerce and the carrying trade; and that there was no necessity for this bill, which undertook to save that interest by striking down other interests that were of equal importance. He proposed to move to amend the bill by striking out the second section. The other sections he had no objection to.

Mr. Driggs made an argument against the bill on the same general grounds as stated by his colleague (Mr. Blair.) He had a letter read from a Bath, Me., shipbuilder to Senator Chandler, against allowing a drawback on foreign material. The writer, A. W. Houghton, stated his objections to be that it would be unjust to those who had invested their money in ships, as the reduction would lessen the value of their property just as much as the drawback would amount to; that there are more vessels now built and being built than are wanted, the cotton crop not being half what it was before the war. There were preparations made for building, on the Kennebec River, fifteen ships and barks, averaging a thousand tons each, which would be built, duty or no duty, and that a large number of vessels would be built this year in the State of Maine, quite large enough for the prospect ahead.

Mr. Meyers said that although representing a district which was largely interested in commerce and shipbuilding, he had received no letter from any person in his district in favor of the pending bill, although its provisions had been published. He would do all he could to benefit the shipbuilding interest, if it could be done without injustice to other interests equally important. The commerce of the country had declined, but the cause of that decline was something beyond the control of Congress, and with the exercise of such energies as had been exhibited in the establishment of the Baltimore line of steamships, commerce would revive. He favored all the sections of the bill except that allowing a drawback on shipbuilding materials.

Mr. Lynch made an argument in support of the bill. In the course of his remarks he spoke of every article entering into a ship being taxed.

Mr. Eldridge asked whether there was anything on a laboring man of the West, from the crown of his head to the sole of his foot, that was not taxed for the benefit of manufacturers.

Mr. Lynch remarked that the war which had nearly annihilated American commerce, had protected and stimulated the agricultural and manufacturing interests; and those interests were to-day in a more thriving condition than they had been in before the war. But the American built ship which had to pay taxes on all its materials, was brought into direct competition with a British ship, which paid no such taxes. There was, therefore, no analogy between the cases.

Mr. Eldridge agreed with the gentleman from Maine that shipbuilding should be free from taxation, but he protested against discrimination in favor of ships and against the laboring man.

Mr. Lynch said he did not agree with the gentleman from Wisconsin. He (Mr. Lynch) was in favor of protecting American labor and American industry. Subsequently Mr. Lynch stated that the letter read from a Bath, Me., shipbuilder, came not from a shipbuilder, but a shipowner, a man who had a branch of his house in Liverpool, and who was, therefore, interested in keeping up the present depression in American commerce.

Mr. Brooks addressed the House in advocacy of the bill. The three great interests of a country were commerce, agriculture and manufactures. Although American agriculture and manufactures were now in a high degree of prosperity, there was not now crossing the ocean a single steamer under the American flag, excepting a small and ragged line running occasionally from the port of New-York, and an American line running from California to Japan and China. This line was created and protected solely by the generosity of Congress, without which it would not be able to maintain itself against the competition of France and England. It was a mortifying spectacle to see in the port of New-York the flags of France, of England, and of the Northern countries of Europe floating over ships that carried American trade and commerce and passengers.

Mr. Eldridge inquired why it was that the English were able to build ships so much cheaper than Americans could?

Mr. Brooks remarked that the gentleman from Wisconsin was roguish and mischievous in putting that question. It was for the purpose of involving him in a tariff and free trade argument; but he declined to go into that question.

Mr. Harding inquired how the line between California and China was able to maintain itself?

Mr. Brooks replied that that line of steamships (The Pacific Mail Steamship Company) had a subsidy of $500,000 a year for ten years for carrying the mails, and that in addition our navigation laws prevent foreign vessels entering into our coastwise trade.

Mr. Eldridge inquired whether it would not be a good speculation for Americans who want ships to go to England and buy them?

Mr. Brooks replied that the laws of the country would not allow that to be done.

Mr. Blaine added that then in a few years there would not be a sailor or a ship builder in the country.

Mr. Eldridge suggested that plenty of sailors could be got by giving fishery bounties.

Mr. Brooks appealed to the House to reflect upon the absolute necessity of maintaining American Commerce upon the ocean. He spoke not for or against copper or iron—not for tariff or anti-tariff; but he spoke for the predominating interest of the country—the protection of the flag. Unless something was done to protect the commerce and shipping of the country, the Union flag would soon cease to be seen on the ocean, except in the coastwise trade and between California and China.

Mr. Washburn, of Wisconsin supported the bill. He said the grounds for this exceptional legislation are, as I understand, as follows: First—that the great shipping interest of the country, unlike any other interest, was, during the war, wiped out and destroyed; and as a consequence, the carrying trade of the country had fallen into the hands of that country by whose perfidy our commerce was brought low. Second, that by reason of the war and our inflated currency consequent thereon, with the high internal taxes, high wages, and the high price of articles entering into a ship, it is impossible to build and sail an American ship in competition with a foreign ship; and that in point of fact no ships bearing the American flag are now seen in foreign waters, and very few ships are now being built or can be built. In the Cities of New-York and Boston there is not a single ship on the stocks. I believe both these statements are true. I am unwilling to see Great Britain longer reap the harvest of her perfidy, without at least making an effort to restore our ancient supremacy on the sea. To do so will, in my judgment, strike down no other interest. We build no ships, and we can under existing laws build none. Consequently the Michigan copper derives no benefit from ship building, and cannot be injured if we pass this bill. Anxious to see our flag once again floating upon the ocean, and believing that this bill will greatly tend to that result, and injure no other interest of this country, I shall vote for it.

Mr. Spalding said: I adopt the speech of the gentleman from Wisconsin, and for the same reason I will vote for the bill.

Mr. Pike advocated the bill, and stated that he had been informed that on a recent voyage to and from Calcutta there had been only two American ships spoken; and that a naval officer had informed him last week that on the great highway of commerce between the United States and Europe, as he piloted his ship from Annapolis to France, and back again, they had scarcely met an American ship. Even in the West India ports, American ships were only doing half the trade they used to do; and the trade with South America was changed from eleven American ships for one English, to three English ships for one American. If this bill were defeated, the last blow at American commerce would be struck.

Mr. Broomall, of Pennsylvania, proposed to amend the amendment of his colleague (Mr. Morrill) by adding a provision that the present tariff duties be increased five per cent.

Mr. Allison spoke against the bill, and said that the second section was simply a proposition to allow the ship carpenters of Maine to use the lumber of New-Brunswick and Canada, and the iron and copper of England, and the cordage of Russia, that they might work some months of the year at building ships. It was a proposition to strike down absolutely four or five great interests of the country, so far as they could be struck down, by a vicious system of drawbacks. Why did gentlemen ask for free trade in shipping when they were not willing to give free trade to the West? If free trade was good for Maine, why was it not good for the whole country?

Mr. Blaine explained the difference to consist in the fact that while by protection other interest were saved from the competition of foreign labors the American built ships, on the materials of which high taxes had to be paid, came into competition on the ocean with the cheaply built vessels of other nations, and could not, of course, compete with them.

Mr. Allison went on to argue that the depressed condition of American shipping was an abnormal state of things, which was shared in also in English shipping.

Mr. Pile said that although the city which he represented, (St. Louis,) was largely interested in copper, and very largely in iron, he favored the bill and hoped it would pass, because it was a step in the right direction. His objection to the bill was that it did not go far enough. American shipbuilders would not be able for many years, owing to the high price of labor, to compete with foreign shipbuilders, and he proposed to offer an amendment to allow the register and enrollment of five iron steamships of foreign construction to be used in the transportation of western produce between the mouth of the Mississippi River and the seaboard cities, provided the ships be owned exclusively by American citizens.

Mr. Butler, replying to the arguments for the copper interests, remarked that the people of Massachusetts had planted about $6,000,000 around Lake Superior in copper mines, the stock of which was not worth the paper it was written on. The fifteen vessels that were to be built on the Kenebec River should, under prosperous circumstances, be multiplied by ten; but the difficulty was, that the vessel which, on the St. John's River, could be built for $50 a ton cost $90 a ton on the Kenebec or Merimac, with that state of things it was impossible for American commerce to exist.

Mr. Allison, as a means of testing the sense of the House, moved to lay the bill on the table.

Mr. Pike offered to amend the bill by striking "copper" out of the second section.

Mr. Allison remarked that he would still move to lay it on the table.

The question was taken and resulted yeas 82 and nays 45, as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Adams, Allison, Ashley of Nevada, Ashley of Ohio, Bailey, Baker, Beaman, Beatty, Beck, Benjamin, Bingham, Blaine, Broomall, Buckland, Cake, Cary, Clark, Cobb, Coburn, Cook, Covode, Cullom, Delano, Driggs, Eldridge, Farnsworth, Ferris, Ferry, Fields, Getz, Goladay, Griswold, Garfield, Grover, Halsey, Harding, Hawkins, Higby, Hills, Hooper, Hubbard, Ingersoll, Jones, Kelsey, Kerr, Ketcham, Kitchen, Knott, Koontz, Logan, Laughridge, Maynard, McCarthy, McCormick, Mercur, Miller, Moore, Mullins, Munger, Myers, Niblack, O'Neill, Polsley, Pomeroy, Raum, Schenck, Scofield, Shanks, Shellabarger, Taffe, Trimble of Kentucky, Trowbridge, Upson, Van Horn of Missouri, Van Trump, Washburne of Illinois, Washburn of Indiana, Welker, Williams of Pennsylvania, Williams of Indiana, Wilson of Iowa, Wilson of Ohio—82.

So the bill was laid on the table.

REMOVAL OF POLITICAL DISABILITIES.

On motion of Mr. Farnsworth, the Senate amendments to the bill to relieve certain citizens of North Carolina from political disabilities were non-concurred in, and a Committee of conference asked.

THE INCREASED PAY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYES.

Mr. Bingham gave notice that he would to-morrow, after the reading of the journal, call up the motion to reconsider the vote on the 20 per cent. resolution.

The House then, at 5 o'clock, adjourned.

Letter from Mr. J. Q. Adams.

A letter has been received in Washington by a prominent Democratic member of Congress from John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, from which the following extract is made;

"I can say, in respect to the mention of my name in connection with the second place on the Democratic ticket to be selected by the Fourth of July Convention, that I am an applicant for no office under the sun. My course at home has been dictated by the most disinterested obligations of duty and preference. I feel that the accident of birth has thrust me upon the public attention rather before my time; and also that this prominence, connected with the accident of birth, involves a great deal of a certain kind of responsibility. If I can acquit myself creditably under these circumstances, and come off with all the old, family honors free of tarnish, I shall be content, and the Vice-Presidency may find some one worthier and more anxious than myself."

It is the general belief that Adams will be nominated by acclamation if Pendleton is nominated for the first place.

WEST POINT.

Departure of Gen. Grant—A Warm and Quiet Day—Artillery Drill—Proposed Festivities on the Practice Fleet.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ROE'S HOTEL,
WEST POINT, Wednesday, June 17, 1868.

The situation at the Point may be summed up to-day in a very few words. The weather has been exceedingly warm, and the events occurring have not been of the most stirring nature. In fact, people at West Point are beginning to tire of the extended round of festivities, and are fast settling down into the hum-drum existence of every-day life, content to leave excitement and spasmodic frivolity to the outside world, from which they are, as it were, shut in. The Academic Board are now looking forward to resuming active duty in the class-room and barrack-yard, while the officers of the post are already making preparations for the encampment of cadets during the months of July and August. Col. Black is looking over Upton's Tactics to see if he had not the best of the little argument with Gen. Schriver on Saturday, during the cadet inspection, and Major Boynton is hard at work with his books and records, closing up the Academic year on paper, and making up his mind for another year of unremitting office duty, so tedious and monotonous as all Adjutants find it. Everybody seems to realize that the season is drawing to an end, therefore affairs naturally take a more sedate course.

This morning, at 10:30 o'clock, Gen. Pitcher, the Superintendent of the Academy of West Point, made a formal visit to the practice fleet, now at anchor in the river. He was received with all the honors, salutes being fired by the fleet, and all hands were drummed to quarters. The worthy Superintendent was shown through the ships by their officers and Lieut.-Commander Luce, comanding the squadron, and he expressed the greatest interest in the appearance of the vessels, the middies, and their accommodations and resources. After these ceremonies the midshipmen were again released on "shore leave," and have enjoyed themselves as usual with the boys on shore. Both schools are for the nonce mere holiday affairs, and the boys gladly abandon their books and studies as a welcome relief from the monotony of their academic life.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon the First and Third Classes of cadets gave their midshipmen friends a taste of their quality as artillerists, the exercise, being in light artillery tactics. This drill proved a perfect success, for the day was clear and the cadets anxious to do their best. The classes were exercised with a full battery of six pieces, all mounted and equipped, and the execution of the several movements furnished a fair criterion of the thoroughness of West Point education, for every detail was correctly observed, and the pieces were handled like toys by the carefully trained cadets. The movements of changing battery front from the left and right, and also the change in direction of fire, while in battery action, were neatly executed, while the serving of the guns in firing was both prompt and rapid. The movement of changing position while on the gallop was a very exciting part of the drill, and it seemed marvelous to see the little cadets leap off the limber-boxes while the battery was in motion, and, as if by magic, unlimber and commence firing on an imaginary enemy. There is nothing so exciting in military manœuvres as those laid down for artillery, and as executed by the cadets it is a positive pleasure to witness them. The middies could appreciate the excellence and perfection of the drill, so they manifested their delight and praise in every way possible, anticipating, no doubt, considerable pleasure in showing their own proficiency in a similar way to-morrow.

At 3 o'clock the steamer Chauncey Vibbard stopped, as usual, at the south wharf, and carried off Gen. Grant, his amiable wife and interesting little daughter. No military parade or display was made on the occasion, at the urgent request of the General, who contented himself with bidding his friends good-bye at the hotel, and was only accompanied to the wharf by Brig.-Gen. Pitcher, in a carriage, Brig.-Gen. Meyer soon after making his appearance. As the boat made fast to the wharf, Gen. Grant was recognized by the passengers, who flocked to the side of the boat and the vicinity of the gang-plank, to catch a view of the face of him who commands our armies. The little string band of itinerant musicians on board the steamer rather ambitiously changed their monotonous melodies to the tune of "Hail to the Chief," but no one seemed to notice the effort, as all were gazing at the General and his family. Stepping quietly over the gang-plank with Mrs. Grant on his arm, the General quickly proceeded to his stateroom and was lost to view. As the steamer moved away we could see him among the passengers, and he returned the salute of Gen. Meyer, thus closing his yearly visit to the Academy.

The midshipmen remained on shore all the evening, and witnessed the ceremony of dress parade as observed by the cadets, and they were no doubt impressed with the beauty of the scene, for it always strikes the eye of a visitor above all the other interesting scenes in this favored locality. At 8:30 P. M. the promised display of fireworks was given on the esplanade, and the programme passed off with great success, some of the set pieces being very neatly arranged.

To-morrow we are to have another treat, for it is proposed by the naval officers and the midshipmen to give us an exhibition of their capabilities as sailors. This interesting naval display will take place at 4 P. M., the changeful weather permitting, and will, I understand, include making and furling sail, manning the yards and guns, gun practice with blank cartridge, and various other exercises incidental to naval warfare and life. The banks of the Hudson at this point will no doubt be lined with spectators, and we all anticipate considerable pleasure from the exhibition. In the evening the midshipmen will come on shore under arms and go through the ceremony of a dress parade according to their fashion, the cadets being on that occasion the spectators.

On Friday we are to have a stunning hop on the vessels of the fleet, the three ships to be lashed together, broadside on, and the decks lighted up with a multitude of ship lanterns, the music to be furnished by the bands of the two Academies. The occasion will no doubt draw thither another large assemblage of guests, and the middies will endeavor to give all their friends a warm reception. So mote it be.

Conservatives Hopeful in Texas.

From the San Antonio Herald, May 30.

Hon. S. A. Maverick, just returned from Austin, whither he went to attend the late called meeting of the Executive Committee of the Conservative Party of Texas, represents great cheerfulness as well as confidence prevailing among our friends at the capital. He met there that sterling patriot and able statesman, Gov. Throckmorton, so well beloved by the people of Texas, but almost worshipped by the citizens of Austin, so highly is he admired by those who have enjoyed his personal acquaintance. The opinion prevails about the capital that even without a revision of the registration, the Conservatives can carry the State at the election which it is presumed the Convention will order at an early day.

ON THE WING IN THE FAR WEST.

A Pleasure Excursion—Four Thousand Miles by Rail—Palace Life on the Prairies—Seven Hundred Miles Beyond Omaha—The Aborigines—The Cities of the Plains, &c.

Five years ago, or perhaps at a more recent period, the idea of going by rail more than two-thirds of the distance between New-York and San Francisco, out into the almost boundless and comparatively unknown regions of the great West, beyond the far-off Rocky Mountains, would have been regarded as Utopian, except to the most enthusiastic of railroad men. Wild and chimerical as the notion may have appeared, it has been carried into practical effect. Omaha, the most easterly city of Nebraska, on the swift and muddy Missouri River, is no longer the remote West! The Union Pacific Railroad has spanned the vast regions beyond it for an area of 700 miles toward the setting sun, opening up a new territory through the valley of the broad and shallow Platte, dotting the plains with settlements and inviting the hidden treasures of the Black Hills and Rocky Mountains to reveal themselves to those who shall prove enterprising enough to seek them.

From taking this marvelous journey I have just returned, after an absence of only two weeks, having traversed during twelve days of that time a distance by rail of about 4,200 miles, passing from the 74th meridian of longitude to the 107th, and back, entering the very heart of the newly-created Territory of Wyoming, and witnessing the laying of the rails on the Pacific slope of the Black Hills! The fact is bewildering to contemplate, and scarcely less amazing is it to find oneself alive after this hurried trip, and in any condition to attempt a description of it.

Under the auspices of the Chicago and North-western Railroad Company, a party of fifty ladies and gentlemen left this City on the evening of the 1st inst., via the New-Jersey Central and Pennsylvania Railroad, on the newly-invented, sumptuous palace cars which more than anything else have contributed to the comfort and ease of the journey, reaching Chicago on the morning of the 5th. Remaining at that city until 10 o'clock A. M. of the 7th, in order that the Directors of the road, in the interval, might choose officers for the ensuing year, the result of which election is doubtless already known in this City, the excursionists—whose numbers had been augmented at Chicago by at least a hundred more—set out for the vague and undefined terminus of the Union Pacific Railroad.

The special train which conveyed the party was composed of six of Pullman's Palace Cars, the Delmonico dining car, two first class coaches, and two commissary cars. If cost be any criterion of comfort, and in this instance the two went hand in hand, some idea of the excellent way in which the excursionists were provided for may be obtained by the simple statement that this magnificent train of moving palaces cost no less than $175,000. As this train was the temporary home of the travelers, nothing was spared to render the outfit all that could be desired. In this respect the excursion has demonstrated one thing beyond doubt—that a trip across the continent, in such cars as Mr. PULLMAN has succeeded in constructing, may be made with far less physical weariness than an ordinary voyage of the same length on shipboard.

Four hundred and ninety miles from Chicago to Council Bluffs, Iowa, on the Missouri River! Without detailing the pleasant incidents which gave zest to this portion of the route across the fertile prairies of Illinois and Iowa, only mentioning the reluctance which was felt at having to leave our train in consequence of the swollen state of the Missouri, which precluded the passage of the cars as was originally intended—a reluctance which was not, however, of long duration, as we took up our quarters in cars scarcely less sumptuous, which had been provided by the Union Pacific Railroad Company at the Omaha Landing—we started fairly on the evening of Saturday, the 8th, on our journey westward. For a hundred miles west from Omaha the land is rich, and a few years more will see it fully settled. But from that point west to Salt Lake the country is an arid waste—an alkali desert, without sign of vegetation, save the blue grass of the Plains. On Sunday morning we found ourselves traversing the Valley of the Platte, and had an opportunity of examining Kearney Station, one of the many military posts which guard the road at intervals about twenty miles apart. A description of one of these stations suffices for all. They are merely halting places in the desert for the purpose of supplying the engines with wood and water; each has a "siding" leading from the main track to admit of the passing of meeting trains, and the sole inhabitants are the section superintendent and his workmen, and eight or ten soldiers. The life of these men seems desolate enough. They have, in every instance, exhausted their ingenuity in making their posts proof against fire and assault by the Indians, by building turf stockades with loop-holes for musketry, into which, in case of attack, they can find refuge by an underground passage from their ordinary quarters. It seems surprising that the Indians are not more aggressive. Miles of the track are left exposed to their forays, but only in one instance have they interfered with the trains or the rails. This occurred about a year ago, at a station called Plum Creek, 247 miles west of Omaha. Here they threw a train from the track and took the scalps of the engineer and two other employes. They seem since to have had a comfortable dread of the repeating-rifles which were brought to bear upon them on that occasion, or else a supernatural fear of the locomotive protects it from their raids, in the same way that the telegraph overawes them by its "long talks," the philosophy of which they cannot understand. Certainly the rails and the telegraph are both at their mercy and within their power to destroy, if they only knew the fact.

Speaking of the Indians, the feeling against them is intense all along the line of the road; and not without reason. The locomotive and the telegraph are alone exempt from their destructive proclivities. Scalp-hunting and driving off stock are their indefatigable pursuits. It is unsafe for a white man to expose himself or his cattle more than a few rods from the stations; otherwise, these red marauders sally from behind the bluffs, on their fleet ponies, and make short work of them. The latest instance of murder by the Indians happened about three weeks since, at North Platte. Two conductors sauntered off to fish, within a mile of the station, and were attacked by a band of eleven Indians, who killed one and left the other transfixed by three arrows, after scalping him twice. The military guard observed the attack and drove off the assailants, killing one at long range. The wounded man was brought in to the station, where he lay when our party reached there, with scarcely a chance of life, although if proper surgical skill could have been afforded at the outset he might have been saved.

Without attempting to uphold this hatred of the Indians which is so generally felt at the West, the majority of the excursionists saw much during their stay at North Platte to help them in understanding why the feeling obtains so deeply. Spotted Tail's band of Ogallala Sioux, a thousand strong, was encamped there on our arrival, and a more forbidding, repulsive and squalid tribe could scarcely be collected. They were receiving their bounty from the Government, and we witnessed the distribution of the provisions. Standing Elk, a lesser chief of the band, was particularly admired by the ladies. His erect form, finely-marked features and martial bearing were in marked contrast to Spotted Tail and the other warriors; but, alas! we learned that even he was no better than the rest of his race. He had hardly recovered from a severe injury to his left leg, which one of his many spouses had inflicted, and which, doubtless, he well deserved at her hands. At any rate, Mrs. Elk had our sympathy, if for no other reason than the fact that Mr. Elk allowed her aged mother, Smoky Sue, to lead the life of a squalid and miserable pauper. Seriously, the Government ought to adopt rigorous measures, instead of a vacillating policy, in its dealings with the Indians of the Plains, who, no matter what the causes which have led to their hostility against the whites, refuse every overture of friendliness and persist in their career of treachery, theft and rapine.

The only station of real importance between Omaha and Cheyenne is Sydney, which is situated 414 miles from the first-named city. Here we saw a fine flock of sheep belonging to an old ranchman named MOORE. There were more than 1,100 head in the flock, and they seemed to be in fine condition. They roam at large all the year round without shelter, and subsist solely on the native grass. MOORE's experiment seems to have demonstrated that sheep-raising might be made profitable on the Plains, and certainly there is fodder enough in the Platte Valley to make it as well adapted for wool-growing and stock-rearing as any region on the continent.

Our train stopped at Julesburg, on the borders of Colorado, which a year ago was the terminus of the railroad, and the home of a floating population, the character of which may be guessed when it is gravely asserted that during the six months of the existence of the town there were one hundred and fifty deaths among its residents, only one of which was natural! It is now forlorn enough, deserted for the more western places of mushroom growth, known as Cheyenne and Laramie. Our stopping-place on Sunday night was Cheyenne City, the capital of Wyoming. Here we first saw the peculiarities of frontier life in all their phases. Gambling and every species of iniquity were openly carried on, and in this respect alone it differed, probably, from cities which pretend to a higher degree of civilization. Certainly there are among the population as enterprising a class of people as ever founded a town. The hotels are good, the daily newspapers anything but fossilized, and the evidences of business foresight and pluck numerous. Large amounts of capital are invested in merchandise, and the expectations of the inhabitants are raised and all their energies bent upon building up a substantial and permanent growth. From this point to Denver a branch of the Pacific Railroad will be constructed, and thus convert the town into a mart for supplying the mining regions of Colorado. The distance to Denver is 111 miles, and a daily line of stages now runs between the two points.

I have thus hastily sketched only a portion of the outward trip of the excursionists, and find that I have already exceeded the limits of a single article, while in my desire to make the description brief I have come far short of doing justice to the subject. I shall therefore close at this point, intending at some early day to resume the narration, with an account of the passage of the train over the Black Hills, life at the town of Laramie, and details of the construction and prospects of the Union Pacific Road.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

American Female Guardian Society and Home for the Friendless.

This excellent charity gave a reception and strawberry festival yesterday afternoon and evening in aid of the Institution, which will be continued, also, to-day from 3 to 9 P. M. From seven to eight hundred children of the Home and the seven schools of the Society were present, and both songs and recitations were given by them. To-day an equal number of additional children of the Home and Society will attend, and similar exercises will be performed. The sight is very interesting and well worth a visit. The children have been chiefly taken from the most degraded portions of the City, and, in the neat clothing supplied to them, present a very attractive appearance.

The American Female Guardian Society has now been established thirty-four years. Its principal object was to shield from vice young girls advancing into womanhood, but it has extended its sphere to that of giving a primary education both to them and to young children, and also to giving aid to many destitute grown persons.

The Industrial Schools of the Society are seven in number, and located in different parts of the City. Two more have been lately projected. The children who frequent them cannot well gain admission to public schools, as they are often employed in begging or selling different articles by their parents, and cannot attend regularly. The schools of the Society receive them at all hours or on any days of the week, giving them clothing and a daily lunch. There are frequent cases where little girls attend with babies, and both study and recite with them in their arms. Their mothers are away at work, and they are left to the care of the little ones. The intelligent faces of the children, and the contrast they present to the little street vagrants constantly met, are an earnest of what this excellent Society performs. No money can be better employed than in aiding this and kindred institutions.

The statistics of the year are as follows:

Inmates of the Home from May, 1867, to May, 1868, adults and children	838
Persons provided with situations or employment	806
Children in Home Industrial Schools, receiving tuition, clothing and food	3,000
Applicants and outside poor aided by House Committee and visitors	1,203
Total number of beneficiaries receiving aid in the Institution and Schools	5,745
Beneficiaries received into the Institution since its opening, including readmissions	15,148
Children in the Schools since their foundation	14,015

The Treasurer reports that the balance on hand at first of last fiscal year was	$19,821 45
And the receipts from all sources	35,719 32
Making a total of	$65,540 77
Against which there is an expenditure of	57,267 50
Leaving a balance in treasury of	$8,273 27

Police Trials.

Commissioners ACTON and MANIERRE heard fifty-two complaints against policemen yesterday. Six of these were preferred by citizens; the remainder were made by superior officers against their subordinates for neglect of duty or violation of rules.

THE SHIELD A POOR DEFENCE.

The case of Patrolman JOHN B. HUNTZINGER, of the Fifth Precinct, involves a lesson which no policeman can too carefully heed—never use the authority of the shield in any private business affair. Miss MARY E. BRUCE, who has a store at No. 350 Canal-street, testified that on the 5th inst. Mrs. HUNTZINGER came to her place and ordered a dress cut and basted. A sign by the door set forth that dresses were cut and basted for 50 cents. This, Miss BRUCE said, applied to only the plainest kind of dresses. It had been there some six or eight years, and had no reference to pelisses and gored skirts of the present elaborate styles. When Mrs. HUNTZINGER came for her work she objected to paying $2, the price demanded. Miss BRUCE would not deliver it until paid for. Mrs. HUNTZINGER said that her husband was a policeman, and the next time she would come with him, and went away. The following day the officer and his wife appeared upon the scene. About the same colloquy occurred between the ladies, with the same result, when the husband interposed, and addressing Miss BRUCE said, "I will have no such loud talk; I will arrest you." Then he put on his police badge, and repeated the threat of arresting her. His wife meanwhile demanded the delivery of the bundle, which was still refused, the officer throwing in the remark, "You must think we are very mean people." "I don't know anything about it," responded Miss BRUCE, "I do my business in a straightforward manner; you can have the goods when you pay me for what I have done." The officer took the parcel from her hand, his wife threw down 50 cents on the table, and they left, the official, with his shield fully displayed, uttering the threat to Miss BRUCE, "Unless you have your sign in I will have you arrested." No agreement was made at first in regard to the price. Several witnesses substantially corroborated this statement.

Mrs. HUNTZINGER testified that the agreement was that the work should be done for 50 cents.

Defendant admitted that he put on his shield, and said that he consulted Capt. PETTY, who told him he had no right to interfere in civil affairs.

Mr. ACTON—That was good advice. You had no right to go there threatening her as a policeman.

The officer denied the truth of the statement that he had threatened to make an arrest, but this will hardly be deemed a sufficient answer to the testimony of four witnesses. Besides, his admission in regard to the shield is fatal to his defence.

WILL LAGER BEER INTOXICATE?

For the benefit of itinerant temperance lecturers, and as bearing upon the much mooted question, Will lager beer intoxicate? the testimony in the complaint against BRANCH WANDEL, patrolman of the Ninth Precinct, is given in full. JOHN NEEDHAM, residing at No. 433 East Ninth-street, a middle-aged, ruddy son of the Emerald Isle, was sworn.

Mr. ACTON—What is the complaint against this officer?

A.—I was drunk Saturday night. I was working on a building until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the boss gave us two kegs of lager, and I drank so much—it was the first time—

Q.—Did you get drunk drinking lager? A.—Yes, Sir; I am sure of it; I went on—I didn't know where I was going to; anyhow, I met with a policeman; I don't know anything about it; I didn't remember until I was in the Station House, when a man was washing my head with a sponge and a pail of water; so the next morning, when I got up, I was taken down and was tried in Jefferson Market; Judge MANSFIELD let me go because my head was so badly cut; he told me to come down to Commissioner BRENNAN and make a complaint.

Q.—Who cut your head? A.—Well, I believe this is the man, (WANDLE.)

Q.—Do you know whether he is or not? A.—Well, I am not sure; I took my oath, anyhow, it could be no other man that could do it but him.

Mr. ACTON, (to the officer)—Did you cut his head? Defendant—Yes, Sir.

Q.—How did you come to cut his head? A.—I found him lying in an area; I went and woke him up; he jumped up and grabbed me and I slipped and fell; he grabbed me by the throat while he had me down; I told him to let go; he would not; in order to save myself I hit him with my club.

The case closed with the advice on the part of Mr. ACTON to the complainant, "Take no more lager."

The other cases were not of special interest.

A German Probably Murdered by His Wife and an Accomplice.

An investigation was commenced at Bellevue Hospital, by Coroner SCHIRMER yesterday, in the case of JACOB PFYFLE, a German 38 years of age, who is supposed to have died from violence received at the hands of his wife, aided by one GEO. REINHART. The deceased, it appears, had been employed as foreman in the chair factory of E. C. ROBINSON & Co., Nos. 158 to 162 West Twenty-seventh-street, and lived in the rear of No. 147 West Fifty-second-street. On Monday evening a fierce quarrel occurred between the deceased and his wife, and when JACOB HILDERBRAND, one of the tenants of the front house, entered the room, he found PFYFLE, his wife and GEO. REINHART scuffling. He separated them and took Mrs. PFYFLE into his own room, soon after which he left the house. At about 5:30 o'clock the next morning, PFYFLE was found lying insensible on the sidewalk near the factory where he was employed, bleeding profusely from a deep cut over the left temple, and from a bad wound on the head, the skull being probably fractured. He was taken home by some of the workmen at the factory, and was thence removed to Bellevue Hospital by Officer KELLY, of the Twenty-second Precinct, where he died soon after. Officer KELLY, on investigating the affair, learned that Mrs. PFYFLE had been living on too intimate terms with REINHART, and this had caused considerable trouble between deceased and his wife. By order of Capt. WARD, of the Twenty-second Precinct, Mrs. PFYFLE and REINHART were both arrested, and are now locked up at the Forty-seventh-street Police Station to await the result of the inquest. When arrested, Mrs. PFYFLE had a cut on the face, and one eye was much swollen and discolored, which injuries she stated she received from her husband, who was in the habit of constantly beating and abusing her. The inquest was postponed until 11 o'clock this morning.

The Peabody Fund.

The Trustees of the Peabody Educational Fund held their semi-annual session at the Fifth-avenue Hotel on Tuesday and yesterday. Bishop McIlvaine, of Ohio, with Ex-Govs. Clifford, of Massachusetts; Aiken, of South Carolina; Graham, of North Carolina, and Messrs. P. Russell, Wm. M. Evarts, Hamilton Fish, McAllister, of Philadelphia, and Samuel Wetmore were present. Mr. FISH took the chair, and the report of Dr. SEARS, the General Agent, was then read. Dr. SEARS states that he has been received everywhere in the Southern States with marked attention and cordiality, and coöperation has been promised in the work undertaken by the Trustees. The poverty, however, of the citizens of the South prevents any considerable amount of material aid being given. According to the terms of Mr. PEABODY's donation, one-third or more is to be advanced from the fund, at the discretion of the Trustees, and in most instances the Southern people have advanced the remaining two-thirds. The fund of $1,000,000 in United States bonds has alone been drawn upon, the $1,000,000 in Planters' Bank bonds having only a nominal value.

Yesterday the Trustees held a private session during the morning and transacted a quantity of routine business. Dr. SEAR's report was accepted and approved, and the meeting then adjourned.

During the afternoon the Trustees drove through the Central Park, and in the evening several of them dined at the residence of Mr. WM. M. EVARTS. To-day the majority of them leave for their respective places of residence.

Abbreviation in Writing—Lecture by Mr. S. W. Powell.

A lecture on this subject was given last evening before the Polytechnic Association of the American Institute, by Mr. S. W. POWELL, of Yale College. He said that common writing could be shortened with advantage by those who had not time or patience to learn phonography. Having occasion to take notes of lectures, he had experimented for a while with extemporized abbreviations; but, as they were not made on any system, they were not legible enough, nor was sufficient speed attained. His attention was called to "Graham's Brief Long-hand," and having tried it and made some additions to it, he had found it what he wanted. He had attained a speed of from 4,000 to 7,000 words an hour, and this manuscript was legible enough to speak from. The system consists in providing abbreviations for words and parts of words of the most frequent occurrence. These were made by leaving out every letter except so many as would be sufficient to suggest the word or fix the eye. The book provided such abbreviation for some 200 words and eighty prefixes and suffixes, and contained suggestions for making others which might be required. The principal of these was to leave out of every word whatever is not characteristic. This will throw out all unaccented vowels.

A few of the words and affixes were given. E. g. b for be or by, c for can, n for not, l for will, h for have or has, &c., e for the, &c.; using e for the is a great saving. If one should use nothing else of the system this would save a surprising amount of writing. Among the prefix signs were c for con, d for dis, di for disinter, i for inter, t for trans, x for extra, &c. Suffix signs were the grave accent for tion, sion, cian, &c., l for less, n for ness, m for ment, sv for soever, &c. Prefixes and suffixes were to be raised and joined—raised so as to catch the eye—joined for the sake of speed. He had found in the book no signs for the very frequent prefixes re, ad, in, per ob, sub, &c. For these he used respectively the phonographic characters for r, d, n, pr, b and sb as initial strokes.

The audience expressed interest in the subject and gratification with the lecture. The speaker said that a professional man or student could save, every five years, enough time to learn French and German by using this system.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

BROOKLYN HEIGHTS SEMINARY.—The seventeenth annual Commencement of the Brooklyn Heights Seminary, Montague-street, took place last evening in presence of a large and highly respectable gathering of ladies and gentlemen, friends of the pupils. The exercises must have gratified the utmost wishes of all concerned, as the reports upon the various departments of study, the musical accomplishments of the pupils and their general deportment at the Commencement were all that the most earnest well-wishers of the Seminary could have looked for. Prof. COAKLEY, of New-York University, read the Report on Mathematics; A. J. SPOONER, Esq., read the report on Butler's Analogy and Art; Rev. Dr. FARLEY read the report on English Literature; Prof. R. R. RAYMOND read the report on Compositions, and Rev. A. P. PUTNAM read the report on Mental Science; Rev. JAMES H. DWIGHT delivered an eloquent and finished address on Woman. The musical department, which was under the direction of Prof. HENSSLER, included a "Galop de Brauvura," of SCHULHOFF, by Miss ALLEN; a piano solo, "Souvenir de Kieff," also of SCHULHOFF, by Miss LILLIE WEST, daughter of Dr. WEST, the Principal of the Seminary, and several choruses. The chorus entitled the "Graduate's Farewell" was plaintive and thrilling, and what added to its interest was the fact that the poetry was by a pupil. Diplomas were awarded to the following young ladies: Miss JENNY BLACKWELL, of Astoria, and Misses LIZZIE HOLMES, MARY L. MYERS, LOUISE EVERETT and IDA AMMERMAN, all of Brooklyn. The exercises of the Seminary will be resumed on Monday, the 14th of September next.

FIRE IN A CHEMICAL FACTORY.—About 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the chemical works of Mr. CHARLES KRAFT, in Flushing-avenue, between Nostrand-avenue and Walworth-street. The fire was caused by the ignition of some ether by the accidental upsetting of a lamp which a workman was using in sealing up a demijohn. The sudden flame extended speedily until there was more fire than the workmen could manage. The firemen were early on the spot, and soon extinguished the devouring element. The structure was one story high, and built of brick. The damage sustained was about $2,000, covered by $5,000 insurance in the Beekman Insurance Company, New-York, and a Philadelphia Company. The material destroyed was valued at about $1,000, and was fully insured in the Brooklyn Insurance Company.

PACKER INSTITUTE COMMENCEMENT.—The annual Commencement of the Packer Institute will take place in the chapel of the institution, on Friday evening.

ANOTHER PHASE OF THE SIXTH-AVENUE TRAGEDY.—ALONZO MCCORMICK, the young man who shot his wife dead a few weeks ago in the house of Mr. WELSH, corner of Sixth-avenue and First-street, was yesterday declared insane, and by order of Coroner SMITH was removed to the Kings County Lunatic Asylum, at Flatbush. When he shall have recovered from his insanity he will be removed to jail for safe keeping, to await the further action of the course of justice.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—At a late hour yesterday afternoon WILLIAM KELLY, a carpenter, who was employed on a building in process of erection in Grand-avenue, near Dean-street, fell from a three-story window, where he was working, and expired almost immediately after reaching the ground. His family resides in Bergen-street, near Washington-avenue.

FATAL CASUALTY.—While a number of boys were at play in CROSS & AUSTIN's lumber yard, yesterday afternoon, a pile of lumber suddenly fell, and one of their number, MILTON LEWIS, 13 years of age, was crushed to death. The remains of the unfortunate boy were taken to the residence of his parents, No. 3 Second-street, Eastern District.

DEATH UNDER PECULIAR CIRCUMSTANCES.—A woman, named OSMONSKI, residing at No. 385 First-street, Eastern District, died yesterday morning from the effects of medicine, as alleged, administered by herself for the purpose of producing an abortion. Coroner SMITH was notified to hold an inquest. The deceased leaves a husband and five children.

THE POLLARD SCANDAL.—The Pollard vs. Crotty assault and battery case came up before Justice CORNWELL yesterday, but was postponed till this forenoon. Mr. POLLARD was arrested and taken to New-York on a warrant issued on application of his wife, Mrs. MADELAIDE E. A. POLLARD.

NEW-JERSEY.

FESTIVAL OF THE NEW-JERSEY SCHUTZEN CORPS.—The New-Jersey Schutzen Corps, under the command of Capt. JOHN HORSMAN, had a banner-presentation and Summer-night's festival at Otto Cottage Garden, Hoboken, yesterday afternoon and evening. There was a large attendance, including a number of ladies. The grounds were beautifully decorated with a large number of flags and colored lanterns. At 5:30, in the Summer house of the garden, a magnificent silk banner was presented to the corps. It is the gift of their lady friends. A presentation speech in German was made by Mrs. SCHACKENBERG, and in English by Miss FINK, daughter of HENRY FINK, of Jersey City. The banner was received on behalf of the Company by Capt. JOHN HORSMAN, who replied in a neat, appropriate speech. The proceedings were interspersed with singing by some ladies and gentlemen, and there was music by the band. The banner was made of white silk on one side. In the centre were the State Arms of New-Jersey. On one side was the word "Germania," in large letters, and on the opposite side was a representation of the Goddess of Liberty. Overhead were the words "Jersey Schutzen Corps," and beneath "Organized Aug. 28, 1863." The obverse side was of blue silk, and contained a representation of the German Oak, with target and rifles in centre. At the top was the picture of an eagle, having in its talons a scroll, in which were the words "E Pluribus Unum." Underneath were the words, "Presented by the ladies of the Schutzen Corps." The banner was made by Mrs. FRANCESCO KLIEN, of New-York, and cost $700. In the evening the grounds were illuminated by calcium lights and colored lanterns. Dancing was carried on with great enthusiasm, and several ladies and gentlemen delighted the assemblage with some excellent music and singing. The party did not disperse until an early hour this morning.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Shortly before 12 o'clock on Tuesday night a span of horses attached to a carriage belonging to Ex-Alderman THOMAS GAFNEY, and which contained several persons, while being driven up Bright-street, Jersey City, were suddenly precipitated headfirst into a ditch which had been excavated across the street for the purpose of tapping the sewer, and which had been left without a protection or light as a warning of danger. The passengers in the carriage narrowly escaped being precipitated into the pit. The horses were extricated by Alderman FARLEY together with several policemen and citizens, and were bound to be somewhat injured.

CORONER'S INQUEST ON ISABELLE DE CAMP.—An inquest was commenced yesterday at Newark on Miss ISABELLE DE CAMP, who had committed suicide the day before by taking arsenic. At the post-mortem examination held by Drs. DODD and WOODHULL, which showed that poison was the cause of death, Mrs. EMILY BLACKMAN and Mr. DE CAMP, father of deceased, swore that in conversations with deceased she admitted having taken arsenic to improve her complexion. Dr. LEHLBACH testified that he found arsenic in the stomach of Miss DE CAMP, and found a paper in her room labeled "Arsenic—Poison."

A MELEE.—A dispute occurred on Tuesday afternoon, at the saloon of HENRY HAWSLING, Market-street, Newark, between some men who had "over-indulged." One of the men named HOLMES struck HAWSLINGS's wife with a chair and felled her to the floor. Constables COBB and GERCKE came to her assistance, but were met by HOLMES and his associates, who handled the officers roughly. Officer GERCKE lost his gold watch in the tussle, but it was subsequently found by a boy. HOLMES and his comrades were finally arrested and brought before Justice MILLS, who sent them up for trial.

IMPORTANT SALE OF BUILDING LOTS.—To-day Messrs. A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co. will sell at auction nearly 3,000 building lots at Rutherford Park, on the Passaic River, New-Jersey, nine miles from New-York City Hall. A special train will leave Chambers-street at 11 A. M.

DROWNED IN A WELL.—A boy, aged 6 years, son of SAMUEL CAUFIELD, No. 8 Huntingdon-street, Newark, fell into a well yesterday and was drowned. He was left in charge of an elder sister while the mother was absent from home for a time.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW-YORK.

Before Judge Blatchford.

INTERNAL REVENUE CASE—CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD THE UNITED STATES.

The United States vs. Ferdinand Sulzberger, George Straus, Charles Hartman, William Silver, Jacob Flushower and Jacob Hess.—The indictment in this case sets forth that the defendants did knowingly and fraudulently conspire to defraud the United States of the tax due on spirits distilled at a distillery situated at No. 393 Eighth-street and No. 295 Ninth-street, in this City, and that the defendants named did afterward, on the 3d of December, 1867, at the place aforesaid, remove certain distilled spirits to a place other than a bonded warehouse. The distillery is located at No. 393 Eighth-street, and in the rear of that is a rectifying establishment, kept by the defendant Sulzberger. This place is No. 295 Ninth-street. It is alleged by the Government that the proprietors of the two establishments had jointly formed a conspiracy to defraud the Government.

David S. Wendell, Chief Clerk Assessor's office, testified that a notice had been filed by the owners of the distillery at No. 393 Eighth-street; the defendant Hartman filed the notice.

Marshal B. Blake, Collector Seventh District, testified that he was appointed Collector in 1862; acted as such to 1866; reappointed in March, 1867; knew the defendants; first had a knowledge of the distillery at the time of his reappointment; he soon after went to the distillery to inspect the premises and there saw the defendant, Straus; Mr. Blake called his attention to certain alterations and Straus promised to have his (Mr. Blake's) orders complied with; called again in a couple of days and found that some of his orders had been complied with, but not all, and ordered that a certain opening should be bricked up; Straus remonstrated with him but obeyed his orders; saw Straus again about two weeks after who told him that the distillery had been seized; went to the distillery two days afterward, went out to the yard and saw Straus and ordered him to have a certain pipe dug up, which Straus had done in the Collector's presence; Straus said that the pipe was an old waste pipe that he got from the rectifying establishment; he saw Flushower again around the distillery in Eighth-street; also saw Hartman around the distillery frequently; saw Hess go in and out of the distillery at night at different times; saw Sulzberger at his rectifying establishment in Ninth-street and at times in the distillery; seized the premises on the night of the 2d of December; seized the rectifying establishment first; at the time he arrived at the rectifying establishment the premises all around appeared to be closed and were very dark, but upon looking under the door he saw a light and heard the noise of a pump in operation and the sound of falling liquid; forced in the door and went into the cellar, and there found a pipe that came down through the floor, and from thence to the wall, and through that to the yard of the distillery; this pipe was lead; also found another pipe similar to the one just mentioned; from the cellar went up to the door on the floor above and found it locked; knocked and requested admittance; as soon as he did this heard three raps as a signal, and immediately the pumps ceased working, and those that were in the room fled. In the apartment they found the pump with pipes, hose and joints, &c. The pipe ran from the distillery wall into the cellar, and from thence to the pump, and from the pump the pipe led to the leech tubs. This pipe should have led to the tubs in the cellar. In the hose and pipe they found warm liquor, of which they took proof, and found it 40 above proof. The doors and windows of the rectifying establishment were strongly barricaded and closed. Mr. Blake then went on to the distillery premises, where he found that the pipe that he had found in the rectifying establishment led through the distillery wall into the distillery yard. The cisterns in the cistern-room of the distillery were about two feet lower than the pump in the rectifying establishment. At the time Mr. Blake went into the distillery he found the fires in full blast and laborers at work. He ordered the fires put out and seized the place; saw Hess and Straus at that time. The pump in the rectifying establishment was run by steam, by the engine in the distillery. There was no fire in the rectifying establishment. A few days after the seizure Straus and Felushower called upon Mr. Blake and asked him what could be done to get the place relieved. They called again in a few days and had a conversation on the same subject. Straus said he had an interest in the distillery, and would like to get it returned, and that he knew that the business had been carried on all straight. A few days following Mr. Blake again went to the distillery to see if his orders in regard to drawing off the mash in one of the tubs had been complied with, and that time he saw Flushower, who asked him if it was his (Mr. Blake's) order that their property should be destroyed in that manner. The defendants are the only persons that witness ever knew had anything to do with the premises. But one notice had ever been filed by the defendants, Hartman executed the bond. At the time Mr. Blake took the liquor from the pipe he gave part of it to Mr. Archibald, who put it in a bottle. Mr. Sproul had the only rightful key to the cistern room; he is an Assistant Assessor; Mr. Blake and other officers, after the seizure, inspected the cistern room, and in one corner found a quantity of hose; one piece was freshly cut; found another hose up stairs, which was connected to the water pipe, and running into one of the mash-tubs; in the hose found in the cistern room liquor was found.

Mr. Sproul, Assistant Assessor, testified that he had the only official key to the cistern room, and that he was the only one rightfully entitled to the key; he was always present when liquor was officially drawn from the cistern room; he was very often at the distillery on official business, and at various times saw all the defendants there in connection with the business; he did not go into the cistern room at the time the liquor was last drawn off.

Mr. Blake recalled—Testified that he had proved the liquor in the custom room, the key of which was always either in the possession of Mr. Sproul or Mr. Blake; the proof of the liquor in the cistern was exactly the same as that found in the hose; Mr. Hartman generally paid the taxes on the distillery with checks drawn by Straus.

District-Attorney Phelps offered in evidence the account book of the distillery, which showed that all the liquor made at the distillery was sold to Sulzberger, the proprietor of the rectifying establishment, and also the affidavits therein relating to the amount of liquor distilled, signed by Straus & Hartman.

The Court adjourned to Friday, the 19th inst. Case still on.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM—JUNE 17.

Before Judge Cardozo.

THE SIOUX CITY AND PACIFIC RAILROAD—APPLICATION FOR AN INJUNCTION—NEARLY A MILLION AND A HALF OF DOLLARS INVOLVED.

Charles A. Lombard vs. John J. Blair, The Sioux City and Pacific Railroad Company, Moses Taylor, The National City Bank, L. B. Crocker, Morris K. Jessup, The National Park Bank, Oakes Aames, Chas. E. Vail, J. N. Scranton, D. C. Blair, A. W. Johnson, Platt Smith, P. H. Smith, Wm. B. Allison, and The Major and Knapp Engraving, Manufacturing and Lithographic Company.—The plaintiff in this action is one of nine associates who undertook to organize a Company for the construction of one of the branch railways to connect with the Union Pacific Road. The agreement between them was that they should have equal interests, and, according to the plaintiff's complaint, if any one parted with his interest, the same should be taken for the joint benefit of the rest. A corporation was formed by these associates and promoters, under the name of "The Sioux City and Pacific Railroad Company." The plaintiff having occasion to visit Europe, requested the defendant Blair, who is the President of the Company, to take charge of his interest in the Company, and Blair, it appears, undertook to do so. On his return, however, the plaintiff found that although the interests of three of the original associates had been purchased by some of the others, and although the capital stock had been doubled, yet the defendants refused to allow the plaintiff more than one-ninth of the original stock, giving him no portion of the additional stock, or of the stock purchased from the three associates. This action is brought to procure a judicial determination of the plaintiff's rights to one-ninth of the whole capital and one-ninth of the purchased interests of the outgoing associates. A large amount of bonds received from the Government of the United States, and a further amount of the bonds of the Company, are now within the jurisdiction of this Court, which the defendants, as alleged, are about to distribute among the stockholders, excluding the plaintiff from more than one-half of his share. An injunction was granted to prevent a distribution of this property to the exclusion of the plaintiff, and the motion now made is to continue that injunction.

It appears from the complaint that the Company has constructed so much of its road as to entitle it to $1,200,000 of the bonds of the United States; that the same have been received by the Company and deposited with Moses Taylor and the National City Bank of New-York for distribution among the shareholders, or for sale on account of the said Company. The plaintiff then goes on to say that he is informed that all except $317,000 worth of the bonds have been sold and the proceeds or a part thereof deposited in the National Park Bank. That the Directors are about to make a dividend of the bonds issued by the United States Government, and that plaintiff is to be allowed only one-eighteenth of the same—whereas he is entitled to one-ninth part in addition to his proportion of the share of the original associates who sold out.

The complaint further sets forth that the Company is, or soon will be, authorized to issue $1,600,000 worth of first mortgage bonds, and that they intend to issue the same; that thereupon the plaintiff will be entitled to one-ninth thereof, in addition to his proportionate share from his associates, who have sold out. That such bonds, unsigned, are now in the hands of the defendants, the Major & Knapp Engraving, Manufacturing and Lithographic Company. The plaintiff therefore prays that this Company may be enjoined and restrained from parting with or disposing of, or allowing to be removed from their possession the $1,600,000 of bonds unsigned, or any part thereof. Also, that the defendants, the National Park Bank, may be restrained from parting with or disposing of the proceeds of the bonds now on deposit with them to the credit of the Sioux City and Pacific Railway Company, or John J. Blair, or the Belvidere National Bank.

The case was called up to-day before Judge CARDOZO, on a motion to make the injunction perpetual. A number of affidavits were read, and from them we learn that the Sioux City and Pacific Railway Company are regarded as the principal defendants in the action. The Company was formed under the general laws of Iowa. The Directors are John J. Blair, Oakes Ames, Chas. E. Vail, J. N. Scranton, D. C. Blair, A. M. Johnson, Platt Smith, P. H. Smith and Wm. B. Allison. The suit was commenced, and the temporary injunction obtained from one of the Judges of this Court, about the middle of May last. After listening to the reading of various affidavits, Judge CARDOZO ordered the further hearing to stand over to Friday next, at 11 A. M., at which time additional affidavits on the part of the plaintiff will be received.

For the plaintiff, Messrs. D. D. & D. Field; for the defendants, Mr. Mitchell.

THE ERIE CONTEMPT CASES—MOTION TO VACATE THE ORDER FOR THE EXAMINATION OF DANIEL DREW.

Some time ago an order was obtained from one of the Judges of this Court directing a reference to take the testimony of Mr. Daniel Drew, in the matter of the alleged contempt of Messrs. Lane, Skidmore, Gould, J. C. Bancroft Davis, Fisk, Eldridge, Diven and others. The case came up to-day on an order to show cause why this order of reference as to the examination of Mr. Drew should not be vacated, for the reason, among others, that this being a special proceeding, there is no authority given by the statutes for the taking of the testimony of Mr. Drew in the manner proposed. The motion was argued by Mr. Charles A. Rapello in behalf of the people, and by Mr. David Dudley Field in opposition. The Court took the papers. Decision reserved.

LIABILITY OF HOTEL KEEPERS FOR BAGGAGE.

Gustavus L. Haupkrnecht vs. Wm. P. Earle & Son.—On the 24th of February, 1866, plaintiff and his wife arrived in this City and repaired to Earle's Hotel, kept by defendants, where they were assigned to Room No. 52. On the arrival of their baggage (3 trunks) at the hotel plaintiff was at the door of the hotel and directed the porter to take it to Room No. 52. During the evening plaintiff on going to his room and not finding his trunks there sent down to the office to know what had become of them. The clerk then in the office not being the one who was on duty when the baggage arrived could give no information in regard to it. The next morning search was made and the trunks were found in Room No. 152, where they had been taken, as defendants claim, by direction of plaintiff, but they had been broken open and jewelry and clothing taken therefrom of the value of $500, to recover which this action was brought.

The defence to the claim was that the baggage was never under the care or control of defendants, but was taken in charge by plaintiff immediately on its arrival. Defendants also set up in defence the statute which requires guests of hotels to obey notices posted in the rooms, to the effect, that all jewelry and valuables must be put in charge of the clerk in order to render the hotel liable. They also tried to prove that when the trunk was found in Room No. 152 the next morning, it had not been broken open, but was delivered at plaintiff's room in good order. This, however, was contradicted by plaintiff and his wife.

The Court directed the jury to find a verdict for the plaintiff for the amount claimed, after deducting the value of the jewelry, for which defendants were not liable, according to the statute. Verdict accordingly for $257.

Kapp & Goepp for plaintiff; J. M. Martine for defendants.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—TRIAL TERM—PART II—JUNE 17.

ACTION ON MARINE POLICY OF INSURANCE.

James Clark vs. The Manhattan Insurance Company.—This case, which has occupied the Court two days, was brought on a policy of insurance, dated Sept. 9, 1865, on the iron steamer Annie, the steamer to be employed in the coasting trade of the United States. On the 20th day of October, 1865, being laden with a cargo of cotton, and proceeding from Darien, Georgia, toward Savannah, she was struck by what was supposed to be the flukes of an anchor in the bed of the river, which tore a hole in her bottom. She began to leak badly, so that, in hopes, under full headway, to keep her free, the Captain proceeded to sea, but finding that the contest between the water and pumps was a drawn battle, he made for Savannah in distress. She was moored at the wharf and commenced unloading, all pumps meantime working at their best. The effect of the unloading was to careen her somewhat, so that the water extinguished one of the furnace fires, and thereafter gained upon the remaining pumps so rapidly that it became evident she must sink, and the owner of the dock ordered her away. Partly in obedience to this command, and also to prevent her sinking in twenty feet of water, the Captain tried to find entrance to a slip, but the water was too low to permit that, and so, as a last resort, he ordered Mr. Dean, the pilot, to find the nearest and best place for beaching her. Accordingly, he crossed the river, and run her ashore on Fig Island, but, on the falling of the tide, it was found that she rested on a sunken wreck, not visible at high water, and scarcely so at any time, in such a way as to hog and strain her, and render it impossible to get her afloat without unloading and the necessary pumps. The owner abandoned her to the underwriters, who thereafter sent wreckers down to relieve her, took charge of and sold her.

The chief defence was unseaworthiness, but the jury found for the plaintiff for the amount of the policy with interest, viz.: $6,140 68.

For plaintiff, Luther R. Marsh; for defendants, Henry J. and Townsend Scudder.

WEDNESDAY, June 17—P. M.

The sales of Gold started off early this morning at a further advance of ⅛ ℘ cent. on the top sales of yesterday. The transactions were at 141⅛@141⅜ ℘ cent., cash, and the bonus paid for the use of Gold until to-morrow—paid chiefly, it is said, by the parties to the present speculation for a rise, for effect—was as high as five-thirty-seconds of 1 ℘ cent. These rates, however, were not long maintained. The sales fell off to 140⅞@140⅝@140½@140⅜@140⅝ ℘ cent., and the bonus for lending Gold to the trifling fraction of one-sixty-fourth of 1 ℘ cent. The Bullish movement in the Gold Room had to encounter a free supply of cash Gold from the Canada Bank Agents and some of the private Banking Houses in the Foreign Exchanges, who were more than willing to accept the current bonus for its use, and were also ready to draw on London at 110 ℘ cent., which is a decline of ⅛@¼ ℘ cent. from the previous quotation. The sales of Gold in the Afternoon were at 140⅜@140⅝ ℘ cent. The Export of Gold by the Cunarder to-day was only $510,000. The Export yesterday by the Hamburg and Southampton steamer was almost exclusively in the Gold and Silver bars delivered from the last California steamer.

One or two of our neighbors who seem strongly bent upon helping the Bull movement in the Gold Room, had best overhaul their figures before essaying the reduction of Gold, in the Treasury in July, as belonging to the Government, to $42,000,000. Assuming as correct that the July Interest will be $31,000,000, and the Principal to be paid off $8,000,000, we beg to remind them that the June and July Customs to be added to the last reported balance, belonging to the Treasury, $70,000,000, will make a total of one hundred millions, at least, out of which to pay $39,000,000—admitting the whole sum to be called for in July—and the Treasury would have to sell, in the open market, at least $19,000,000 to reduce the balance to $42,000,000, as assumed by the World, or $11,000,000 to leave a working balance of $50,000,000, as in the ownership of the Treasury, which, under the circumstances of the country and the wants of the Treasury, is all that ought to remain idle, while the Sinking Fund of 1862 is left in arrears. The combination to force the price to 145 ℘ cent., (or higher,) and to compel a daily bonus upon parties supposed to be short of Gold for immediate delivery, can only be of short duration in the present condition of the Money markets abroad; for only assure the great Banking Houses in London, Paris and Frankfort, connected with the American Exchanges, that capital can be used here at from 4 to 5 ℘ cent. ℘ annum, and the Gold upon which its transfer is based can be lent out free of interest, and our Foreign Exchanges would soon fall below the Specie shipping point. The balances said to be due abroad for Interest and Principal in July, and Foreign Merchandise sold, would be mostly left here for reinvestment in United States Stocks, or for temporary employment as long as the market scarcity of Gold continued, and the plausible theory of our contemporary that "the Importers" are soon to be, if they are not already, alarmed into buying at the fancy rates made in the Gold Room might be as suddenly snuffed out as it has been created for a purpose.

So far as the New-York Treasury Office is concerned, in July, we may add to the above remarks that last year the Interest paid out was $11,306,370, (when the sum due at all the Treasury Offices was about $18,675,000,) and the Customs receipts were $9,794,404. This year the amount of Interest likely to be called for at New-York is about $18,000,000—possibly a million or two more, and the New-York Customs we believe will be $11,500,000, or about the same as in July, 1866.

One other point in this controversy. The organs of the Gold Room pretend that about sixteen millions of the thirty-nine millions of Gold to be disbursed in July on Principal and Interest of the Public Debt belong abroad, and will have to be remitted for. This is an exaggeration by full one-half. We have reason to believe that less than three millions in Interest and five millions in Principal belong abroad, including all securities held in this City as for Foreign account. Of the 5 ℘ cents of 1874 and 1871, in all $27,022,000, there may be $20,000,000 owned abroad—July Interest $500,000. Of the 6 ℘ cents of 1881 and the new Five-twenties, but very recently entertained on the other side, there may be $80,000,000 owned on the other side—July Interest $2,400,000. Of the principal of the maturing Loan of 1848-68, there may be $5,000,000 owned on the other side or by the Bankers and Agents of Foreigners in this City.

We learn that the Treasury Office is now paying off in Gold the Principal of the United States Loan of 1848-68, with an abatement of the Interest hence to the 1st July, when the Loan falls due. About $700,000 was paid off yesterday and to-day.

The rates for Money to the Brokers range from 3 to 5 ℘ cent., according to the terms and collateral which the lender and borrower can agree upon. The market is well supplied with balances seeking temporary employment, as well at Bank as on the Street.

The Public Funds of the United States opened nominally firm at the last rates of yesterday, but at the early Boards of the Stock Exchange the amount of actual business was small, and the market instead of being advanced by the higher speculation in Gold was adversely affected by it; and it was not until the 2:15 P. M. Board that the demand for 5-20s and 6 ℘ cents of 1881 and the 10-40s resumed a positive buoyancy. The private purchases of the old 5-20s of 1862 at 113@113⅛ ℘ cent. are reported over half a million of dollars. The new 5-20s of 1865 closed at 113⅞@114, and of 1867, at 114@114⅛ ℘ cent. The State Bond list was much excited on North Carolinas and Virginias at a further advance of 1@1½@2 ℘ cent., and active on the Tennessees and Missouris at the full rates of yesterday. The Railway mortgages were also firm; the offerings being in moderate sums on all descriptions. Some sales by auction by MULLER, WILKINS & Co., at noon, realized an advance on extreme quotations at the Exchange Board.

The Railway Share Market was higher and active on Reading and the Northwest Stocks, and steady upon most of the New-York and Western Roads. Among the latter the bidding was firm for Michigan Southern and Cleveland and Pittsburg. The transfer books of the Northwest Company closed to-day for the 10 ₩ cent. Scrip Dividend on both classes of the Stock. The fashionable resort to a legal injunction was announced at the 2:30 P. M. regular Exchange Board, as against (or to restrain) the proposed Dividend. But this had no other effect than to make the late dealings irregular as between these Stocks, with the Dividend on and Ex-Dividend. The relative prices were, if anything, higher than before the injunction, and no doubt seemed to be felt by the Directors of the Company, one of whom addressed the 2:30 Exchange Board on the subject, that the legal restraint upon the Dividends will soon be removed. The circumstances of this proceeding, as far as we can learn the particulars, are exceedingly trifling in their nature, and discreditable to the men of straw put forward as plaintiffs to the suit.

Internal Revenue Decision.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, June 10, 1868.

SIR: Your letter of the 5th instant, asking whether, in case of the sale of a distillery, a transfer of the meter application is allowable, has been received.

In reply, I have to inform you that the joint resolution of Feb. 3, suspending all existing laws and regulations relative to meters, makes it unnecessary for you to require application or deposit for meter until further action is taken on the subject by Congress. The transfer of meter applications in such instances is therefore not necessary.—Very respectfully,

E. A. ROLLINS, Commissioner.

JOHN W. FRAZIER, Esq., Assessor of First District, Pennsylvania.

LUMBER—The Albany Argus of this morning says: "The trade through the district is in a very healthy condition. There is an entire absence of speculation. Prices of all kinds of Pine and coarse lumber are firm. The demand throughout the week has been good, but not so active as during the week previous, owing to the absence of vessels. Pine lumber is in lighter stock than it was at the opening of the river. The stock of coarse lumber, though larger than it was at the opening, is not more than the wants of the trade demand, and some descriptions are rather scarce. We make no change in our quotations of clear lumber, retaining our inside figure of last week, though the sales have been light at $55; the bulk of the sales have been made within the range of $57@$60. The receipts of lumber at Chicago show a large falling off, compared with the receipts of the week previous, as well as with those of the corresponding week last year; the figures for the week ending the 13th inst., are 22,698,000 feet, against 38,152,000 for the week ending 6th inst., and 30,699,000 feet for the week ending June 13, 1867. The aggregate receipts of lumber so far this season are about 288,825,000 feet, against 213,670,000 feet in 1867. Quotations of lumber have been without change during the week. The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending June 15, were:

	feet.

A motion to appropriate $12,350 for repairing heating apparatus and purchasing new ones, was referred to the Finance Committee; and another appropriating $10,000 for repairing and painting school-houses in the Fifteenth Ward, was adopted. The Board adjourned till the 1st prox.

The Trustees of the Peabody Educational Fund held their semi-annual session at the Fifth-avenue Hotel on Tuesday and yesterday. From the report of the General Agent, Dr. SEARS, it appears that the Southern people are fully alive to the value of Mr. PEABODY's gift, and are anxious to coöperate with the Trustees in extending the benefits to be derived from it.

An action of some interest in connection with the Pacific Railroad has been commenced by CHAS. A. LOMBARD vs. The Sioux City and Pacific Railroad, (one of the branch roads to connect with the Union Pacific,) for the purpose of obtaining a perpetual injunction as to the distribution of the United States Government bonds. The argument is to take place on Friday next, before Judge CARDOZO, of the Supreme Court of this district.

The case of LAURA WALDRON vs. CAROLINE RICHINGS was on trial again yesterday in the Marine Court. The plaintiff brought the suit to recover for services as a singer in the Richings Opera Troupe. The case was tried about a month ago, when the jury were unable to agree. The trial will be concluded to-day.

Cotton advanced ½c.@¾c. ℔ lb. yesterday, on a more active business. Flour was salable, especially low grades, which were firm. Wheat improved a little in price, on heavier transactions, largely for export. Corn and Oats were pretty freely dealt in, but were a trifle cheaper. Provisions attracted rather more attention. Pork was quoted higher. Groceries were dull and heavy. More extensive freight engagements were reported at firmer rates, with 577 vessels of all classes in port.

The Anti-Palaver Policy of Gen. Grant.

It shows the beggarly straits of Gen. GRANT's opponents that they still try to slur him for his reticence, seeking to discredit him for what is really one of the clearest tokens of his sterling worth. It is precisely because Gen. GRANT is a man of substance, not of sound, of performance, not of promise, of work, not of words, that is he recognized as the right man for the present needs of the country. The people are tired of the endless babble upon the reconstruction question, just as in the fourth year of the war they were out of patience with the windy proclamations that had come without result from each successive commander of the national armies. It was to substitute solid results for the empty rhetoric of the Popes and the McClellans that GRANT was then summoned to take the line for the heart of the rebellion. He was put to the work because he was the very man to "fight it out" on that line, and not to talk it out. Our recent history has exhibited no grander feature of the moral sublime than the self-poised calmness with which Gen. GRANT, after his first amazing successes, awaited his final commission to deal the finishing blow to the rebellion, and the same modest calmness with which he has since worn the fame of that transcendent achievement. Men cannot help recognizing in him a true hero of the old silent sort, one of that almost extinct race of public servants who spoke mainly by their actions, and whose action-speech was altogether of the highest kind, and the highest of its kind—men of entire fitness for the task they had in hand, whose metal was true in every grain and sure on every field—men exact in observation, quick in decision, thorough in execution, doing and thinking nothing to waste.

From first to last, a most marked peculiarity of GRANT has been his consistent individuality. He has always been himself, has never belied his antecedents or disappointed those who knew and trusted him; has never acted otherwise than as you might have predicted that under the circumstances he would act. Always, throughout the war, from his presentation of himself before Gov. YATES for orders as a volunteer, immediately after the first gun against Sumter, to the final swoop upon the fugitive remnant of the rebel armies at Appomattox, he always exhibited the same unhesitating devotion, the same marvelous vigor, promptitude and daring in all his operations. There were as many mere adventurers, soldiers of fortune, in the war, as there are in every war. But GRANT was not one of them. He never aimed at great ends for himself, and always went straight on, without art or ostentation, in the discharge of his duty; never unduly putting himself forward, but ever ready when wanted. His wonderful success he owes not at all to capricious fortune; he fairly extorted it, by the pure native force of his character, from tremendous odds against him. True greatness consists in overcoming obstacles, and must, therefore, be measured by the magnitude of the obstacles overcome. No modern leader of armies can stand that test like GRANT.

The same qualities which enabled GRANT to perform the decisive part in the war fit him for a leading part in the great settlement which is to follow the war. The same comprehensive and accurate foresight and insight by which he carried every one of his great campaigns, without a single exception, to a glorious issue, may still be made just as serviceable to his country in frustrating the manœuvres and machinations of treason and faction and securing all the due fruits of peace. The same practical management of men which got such grand patriotic work out of the hearts and limbs of soldiers from every State, will avail just as effectually in getting the best civil service from all true Union men in every part of the country. The same discernment of character through which, as commander, he infallibly selected the fittest officer for each special line of duty, and the same unjealous and noble spirit by which he animated them all with his own public devotion will, in like manner, give splendid unity, compactness and efficiency to his civil administration. In a word, the whole round of high faculties and qualities which empowered GRANT to consummate one of the most magnificent military triumphs on historical record will assuredly secure him from any failure in organizing victory.

Nobody pretends that Gen. GRANT has brilliancy of genius. All that is claimed by his most earnest supporters is, that though he may not have the qualities which dazzle a nation, he certainly does have the qualities which can save it—that the solid controlling elements of his character furnish an adamantine security that in his hands the Government will be wisely and faithfully administered.

It is in perfect keeping with this dominant old Roman virtus, that he has been a man of so few words—that all through his matchless military career, he never, on a single occasion, paraded in speech either what he had done or what he was going to do—that during all the years between the close of the war and the National Convention of the great party which had sustained the war, he never put forth a single syllable, in any manner bespeaking the favorable consideration of the party for its brightest reward—and that finally, when, by the irrepressible sentiment of the great Union Party, he received the Presidential nomination, he returned a letter of acceptance, so simple, direct, brief, and yet so apposite—and that he has since so completely held his peace. A French satirist declared that if apes had the parrot faculty they would make themselves Ministers of State. We have had quite enough of statesmanship of that order. Here the "parrot faculty" don't go for much now.

Whisky and Tobacco—The Indispensable Reform.

The Ways and Means Committee is in travail once more, and there are endless conjectures as to the product of its pains. The whisky and tobacco interests are on the ground in full force, and there will be no lack of the appliances with which combinations seek to control the decisions of committees, and the action of the House. Why the Ways and Means members allow themselves to be pestered by the protests, or give heed to the arguments of a class intent upon benefitting itself at the expense of the Treasury, is not clear. As a proof of good nature, these audiences are well enough, but as means of helping the Committee to comprehend facts, or to mature a plan for increasing the revenue, they are at best of doubtful utility. The Special Commissioner of the Revenue and the officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau ought to be able to furnish the information requisite for the intelligent guidance of the Committee. If not, the fact would be conclusive as to the hopelessness of changes that do not embrace the reorganization of this branch of the service.

We must believe that a reduction of the whisky tax from two dollars to fifty cents would be a step in the right direction. It would render illicit distillation unprofitable—at least authorities say so; and this point gained, the protection of the revenue becomes more easy. But it does not follow that the revenue will reap the profit resulting from the suppression of illicit trade. The probability is that fraud will but change its form or its locality, and that the Treasury will continue to suffer, unless the proposed legislation be more comprehensive than the House appears at present to desire. Make the legislation as stringent as possible, still the Government will be at the mercy of its agents. The plan presenting the greatest apparent stringency is that embodied in Mr. STEVENS' resolution, presented yesterday. Tax the still to the extent of its capacity, and the opportunity of evasion would appear less than under any other method. Even then, however, the efficacy of the preventive process is contingent on the integrity and ability of the officials intrusted with its application.

Whatever the amount of the tax imposed, whatever the devices with which its collection is fortified, the reconstruction of the Bureau, and the introduction of new elements into this branch of the service, are preliminaries essential to the prevention of fraud and the more complete collection of revenue. With the service constituted as it is, with the same absence of responsibility and the same impunity for the knaves and incapables who are relied upon to administer the law, we are warranted in assuming that expectations of a large increase, predicated upon a reduction of the tax, and the introduction of strict technical provisions, will not be realized. These will be useful as far as they go. But they must be accompanied with sweeping reforms in the service, or the Treasury will fare even worse than now.

The testimony of Mr. WELLS on this point merits recognition at the hands both of the Committee and the House. His office is one of investigation, and the purpose of his inquiries bears directly upon the consideration of this aspect of the question. He insists upon a thorough change of the administrative system as a sine quâ non of real improvement; and it is impossible to look at the subject without perceiving that he is right. For as the losses and frauds from which the revenue has suffered, have been in the main a consequence of the negligence, incapacity, and criminal complicity of the revenue officials, it is obvious that any measure will be radically defective which does not enact guarantees against a continuance of this state of things. And the most efficient guarantee will only be obtained through the introduction into the revenue service of the principle of Mr. JENCKES' bill. Any whisky reform will be hopeless which leaves the revenue at the mercy of the scoundrels who have brought disgrace on the present system.

As it is with whisky, so it is with tobacco. The frauds in that manufacture have exceeded in amount those which revelations of the whisky trade have rendered notorious; and the chief cause of the losses experienced by the Government is traced by Mr. WELLS "directly to the imperfect administration of the law, growing out of the manner in which the Inspectors are selected and appointed. Remedy this," he adds, "and the difficulties which now attend the enforcing of the law and the collection of the taxes will, in a great degree, be removed." Reverse the proposition and it holds equally good. Let the law be made as perfect as the ingenuity of the Committee enables them to make it, and it will fail to protect the revenue against fraud, if the existing administrative system be not almost wholly discarded.

The Proposed Post Office.

We overlook all the points of inelegance, irrelevancy and nonsense in the report to Congress on a new Post Office for this City, (published yesterday,) because of the force with which it demands immediate action on the subject.

The report argues that the Government was fortunate in securing a site, and in the merely nominal price paid for it. It rehearses the familiar arguments in favor of the City Hall Park—showing its suitableness, its convenience and its other advantages. It speaks of the architectural plan which has been adopted, and urges the erection of a building which shall be in all respects worthy of the commercial capital of the continent, and worthy of the vast and important business to be transacted in it. It calls for the appropriation needed, and shows that it is not for the City alone, but for the entire country.

Our Post Office is the great distributing office for the continent, and the postal interests of the whole country depend upon the accuracy and celerity with which business is here performed. The growth of business has been so rapid that the force of employes for carrying it on has had to be increased during the last ten years from 298 to 565, and they have been crowded together until the average space each occupies is thirty superficial feet, and in one department but ten feet. It is utterly impossible to carry on operations in a fitting manner, and at the present rate of increase, there must soon be embarrassment that will seriously interfere with the conduct of affairs. The following comparison will give an idea of the ratio of growth:

> "The amount of mail matter in gross handled in 1864 averaged forty-one tons daily. The daily average of 1867 was ninety-five tons, an increase of 130 per cent. in three years, and averaging 200 wagon loads per day. The number of letters dispatched is now a daily average of 250,000. Number of letters and newspapers delivered by carriers during 1857, 4,896,126; the same during 1867, 19,268,786, being an increase in ten years of 400 per cent,; while the box delivery has increased in equal proportion. Number of foreign letters sent and received in 1861 was 4,063,981; the same in 1867, 8,918,158, an increase of nearly 120 per cent. in six years."

Aside from the domestic mails that are constantly arriving and departing, foreign mails arrive from and depart to Europe four times per week by regular lines of steamers, and semi-monthly, extra, to and from France, against but two foreign mails per week in 1861. In 1861 two mails monthly were sent to and received from Havana, and now the same number are sent and received weekly. In addition to which there are now monthly mails sent to and received from Brazil, China and Japan.

It is well that the report brings these and the other facts it contains to the attention of Congressmen, in order to show that this is not a mere job for the benefit of our own citizens, and in order to show them the imperative necessity of immediate action for the benefit of the postal interests of the entire country.

There are disappointed architects who are trying to defeat the appropriation for our new Post Office. They want to get the business out of the hands it is now in, and transferred to themselves. But the design has been gotten up by competent and experienced men, and it has been approved of by the Government and local authorities, as well adapted to the purposes for which the building is intended.

The Latest European Rumors.

Almost every other day the Cable furnishes us with items of news bearing upon the great European question of the day—are France and Prussia going to war or are they not? And when the files of European journals arrive, we find them full of rumors and speculations on the same subject. And yet there is little really new in the situation. What seem at first sight to be facts are generally explained away, and formal official declarations, on being examined, generally turn out to mean absolutely nothing. To-day we publish two Cable dispatches, which seem very much of the usual character. From one we learn that the French ministerial report on the budget repeats the stereotyped phrases about France being desirous only of peace, and expresses disbelief in the existence of any danger to the tranquillity of Europe. It is to this intense desire for peace, we suppose, that must be attributed the recent calling out, at the same time, of two annual contingents of 100,000 men by NAPOLEON. So great is his anxiety to preserve peace—peace on the basis of French supremacy—that he anticipates by a twelvemonth the regular course of conscription. These constant assurances of pacific intentions, and refusals to believe in the warlike designs of others, are becoming, if they mean anything at all, rather more like taunts, intended to irritate opponents, than real auguries of peace. Count BISMARCK's ground for looking forward to peace, is his conviction that NAPOLEON will not "endanger his dynasty" by risking a war of which the result is thus so delicately hinted at. And the Napoleonic assurances of peace are couched much in a similar spirit. The idea at the bottom of them is that there will be no war because the power of France is so vast that no one will be found to run counter to her will.

We also hear a somewhat singular story from Berlin, to the effect that papers had been seized in Silesia which threw light on some project for implicating the smaller European Powers with France in a war against Prussia. It does not appear whence these mysterious papers emanated, or in whose hands they were found, or how they came to be in Silesia, of all parts of the world. In its present shape the story looks like a canard of the wildest kind. Whatever the result of the situation is to be, we believe it will be suddenly brought about by some unexpected and decisive stroke on the part of one of the Powers chiefly concerned. The guiding spirits of France and Prussia must thoroughly understand each other now, and if war is meant by either of them, it will probably break out suddenly, and on any pretext that may turn up at the moment. There is not much room left for intrigue now, and though every rumor naturally excites eager attention at such a time, we do not apprehend that anything of real import will be allowed to leak out until the first unmistakable war-note is sounded, or—if such a contingency can still be hoped for—a solid basis for peace agreed upon.

MINOR TOPICS.

The wetness and coolness of the Summer are interfering a good deal with our customary Summer ways and doings. People are not gasping under a continuance of hot weather, and longing to "sit in their bones" somewhere, in a straw hat, under trees. They are afraid to get up excursions and picnics, or go to races, or lay themselves out for anything but what they may enjoy at an hour's notice and within reasonable run of shelter. The hotel keepers at watering places are hoping they are not going to have a dull season. It is some consolation to us in the great cities that the public health is kept in a pretty fair condition, everything considered. Another consolation may be gathered, even under this cullender of Aquarius out of his place,—that is, the great plenty of the year in dairy produce, fruits and vegetables, and the good prospect of abundant harvests. At the same time the Boards of Health should be watchful of their great charge, under the hot moisture of a Summer like this.

The Democratic candidate for the Presidency suits us to a dot. As one of the distinguished soldiers in the war for the Union, he has a record of which any loyal man might be proud. As an uncompromising opponent of the cruel war waged against the South, he deserves the support of every man who is faithful to the traditions of the party. As the originator and founder of greenbacks, he not only sustained the credit of the nation, but enabled us to build up a solid superstructure of honorable debt. As the abolisher of debt, credit, greenbacks and honor, he has a great work yet before him. As a believer in negro rights and universal suffrage, he has shown his devotion to the most advanced principles of freedom. As a supporter of the doctrine that this is a white man's government, and an admirer of the Dred Scott decision, he holds out large hopes of peace and harmony in the future. No one should refuse to vote for him without thinking seriously over his varied merits.

We learn by yesterday's English mail that the new act of Parliament for the carrying out of capital punishment throughout the United Kingdom has been issued, and comes into immediate operation. Its important feature is the abolition of public executions, and the consequent disappearance from the surface of English life of those shocking scenes at the gallows which are so familiar to readers of English journals. The new law provides that judgment of death, to be executed on any prisoner on any indictment or inquisition for murder, shall be carried into effect within the walls of the prison in which the offender is confined at the time of execution. The Sheriff is to be present with the officials. The surgeon of the jail is to certify the death. A coroner's inquest is to be held; the certificate and declaration are to be exhibited outside the principal entrance of the prison for at least twenty-four hours.

In the Senate discussion on Tuesday, concerning the removal of political disabilities from certain Southern men, Mr. HOWARD undertook to defend the Republican majority against the imputation of partisanship in relieving men who showed a willingness to accept Congressional reconstruction. That was right, but Mr. HOWARD also went on to say that "the majority would not be swift to readmit the red-handed rebels, who had always been the friends of the present minority of this body, without some security for the future." Now, if "red-handed rebels" means anything, it means Ex-Confederate soldiers, and we venture to say that in the South as in the North those who did the fighting are generally the most conciliatory and politically trustworthy, so far as the Federal Government is concerned. But whether they are or not the epithet is, to say the least, in bad taste—excusable, perhaps, during the turbulence and passion of war, but not at all helpful in bringing about the "better state of things" we are all hoping for. Why can't such relics of the war be thrown away, since they are now worse than good-for-nothing?

The Paris Constitutionnel states with approbation that the Legislative Body has adopted a bill by which the telegraph charges in France are to be reduced one-half—a very welcome concession to the public. Another reduction is also arranged, which will bring the charge for a message down to a franc—about a quarter of a dollar of our money; but that will not come into operation till the November of next year—though the people in general would rather have it at once. But the French policy of movement nowadays is "slow and sure"—not at all a bad change for that part of the world, where good things were formerly carried out by fits and spasms.

No one can be surprised at a contradiction of the report that Gen. GRANT has sent a special inspector to look after the Fenians. The General, unlike our militia friends across the border, is experienced in actual warfare and is not apt to be startled into unnecessary alarm by rumors—"wasn't born in the woods to be scared by an owl," as the proverb has it. He has probably assigned to the frontier posts officers whom he can trust to perform their duties without needing special details of additional inspectors. And the best comment on his quiet confidence and the uncalled for ruffling of the Canadian martial ardor, is found in the series of telegrams from Ogdensburg, Malone, Chateaugay and other reported Fenian rendezvous and arsenals, stating that the rumors of movements of Fenian war material along the border are pure fabrications. In time of profound peace our neighbors have wisely prepared for war. Now let them wait till it comes to them.

Like begets like. It is by no means necessary to suppose that the conferring of the degree of Doctor of Laws upon our poet LONGFELLOW by the University of Oxford was induced by the cordial and even affectionate greeting received by Mr. DICKENS at the hands of Americans; but that evidently made a strong impression on our English cousins. Hitherto they have been very chary of official literary honors where Americans were concerned, but they really are beginning to recognize something of a kinship in matters of culture as well as those of material interest. They certainly have selected a worthy representative to accept their proffered compliment—one to whom no one in his own country will begrudge the honor.

"REVERDY JOHNSON, a Maryland go-between, is to be Minister at London. We warn our British cousins that he represents only the burglars who have got possession of the house, for the moment; that he only represents the dastard city which murdered Massachusetts soldiers in 1861, and then slunk, like a whipped spaniel, at the heels of our Massachusetts soldiers," &c., &c. Thus does WENDELL PHILLIPS open a foul-mouthed assault upon the eminent, loyal and venerable Senator just appointed to represent our Government in Great Britain.

The Westward movement of our American population is very large this year. Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas will probably get the largest proportion of the emigration. A recent traveler through these States speaks of their relative advantages for different kinds of settlers. For instance, it may be safely said that the climate of Southern Kansas is milder than that of Nebraska; that water is better and more plentiful in Missouri than in the other two States; that the droughts of Kansas are more severe than those of Nebraska; that Nebraska has better prairie but poorer timber than Missouri; that the Winters of Nebraska are more rigorous and the Summers more genial and healthful than those of Kansas and Missouri; that Missouri has the best coal beds; that Kansas has the best building rock; that Nebraska has the richest and most extensive salines; that Missouri excels in Winter wheat, Nebraska in Spring wheat and Kansas in corn; that Missouri and Kansas are fruit regions; that Nebraska is a cattle region; that Missouri is a good resort for dyspeptics, Kansas for asthmatics and Nebraska for invalids of all kinds; and that Missouri will best suit Marylanders, Virginians and Eastern Ohioans; Kansas will best suit folks from Southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, while Nebraska will be more desirable to Pennsylvanians, New-Yorkers, Northern Ohioans, and, generally, to all persons from the cool regions of the country.

The employment of children in the manufacturing and mechanical establishments of Massachusetts has again been brought before the Legislature of the State. The report shows that large numbers of children, ignorant and hopeless, are found toiling to the very verge, and even beyond it, of physical endurance—slaves in all but the name, forcing from their looms products to further enhance stock and enlarge dividends. There are no less than 937 establishments employing children between 10 and 15 years of age. In some factories the agent found that children had been kept at work during entire nights. Of the mills employing children, thirty were found having them within their premises over sixty hours per week. In some establishments the children were barefooted, ill-clad, unclean and pale-looking. The facts and incidents, as given, are of a very painful and shocking character.

California is not slow at taking a useful hint. The admirable working of our New-York Labor Exchange has induced the establishment of a similar institution in San Francisco, and its success has been immediate and complete. Already, though the thing has been but very imperfectly advertised, applications are pouring in from every part of the State, and in some departments of labor the Exchange has been unable to supply the demand. Branch agencies are about to be instituted at various points throughout the State and the opportunities for emigrants seem to be taking a new development. The modern system of middle-men has certainly some great advantages.

"Hypothesis of a Campaign on the Rhine!" This heading of a recent French pamphlet is one that would have remarkably suited the France of two hundred years ago, when LOUIS XIV., with TURENNE, CONDE and LUXEMBOURG, made his famous crossing of that historic barrier into Flanders. It is still of the highest significance, belonging as it does to an essay published at Brussels by Prince PIERRE BONAPARTE, son of the Prince of Canino. In this the writer claims the Rhine as the natural boundary of the modern Gaul—a claim which, as THIERRY says, "has become part of the national conscience of France," and argues that the attempt to make it so, in reality, is both very advisable and very feasible. This may be called one of the Bonapartean "ideas;" and occurring along with that other straw—"Paix par la guerre"—may indicate some coming wind of policy in that part of the world. When the grand issues of peace and war are shut up in the brain of one man, people must go about, interpreting signs and picking up inferences.

The Senate Committee has agreed to report the Rights of Naturalized Citizens bill without the clause of retaliation which would justify us in seizing and shutting up private people for the faults of their Governments. This omission is in the best legislative spirit, since that seizure of innocent people for the acts of others jars on the general sense, and seems somewhat analogous to the custom of privateering on the ocean. It is to be always assumed that violations of the rights of our citizens occur in cases of doubt, and any deliberate violence on the complaining side would rather exasperate the difficulty instead of correcting it. Acts of injustice can never be rightly remedied by similar acts. That old principle of "an eye for an eye" was abrogated a good while ago, and is too stern for easy working in the altered and complex conditions of modern civilization. Men may act in a passion; but nations should act on principle.

Mr. Justice MILLER has delivered the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States reversing the decision of the Supreme Court of Nevada, and maintaining that said State had no right to levy a tax of a dollar on every traveler passing on his way out of that State. The Chief Justice was of opinion that such a tax may be levied on foreigners, but not upon American citizens; and Mr. Justice CLIFFORD expressed a doubt that Congress itself had any right, under the Constitution, to impose such a tax; but certainly no State could lawfully exercise such a power of making exceptional rules in the midst of a people who are fellow-citizens of a common country. Nevada must reinforce its "budget" from some less objectionable source of revenue.

Proposed Disunion of Nova Scotia and Canada—Debate in Regard to it in the British Parliament—No Committee of Inquiry into the Causes of Nova Scotian Discontent to be Appointed.

LONDON, Wednesday, June 17.

In the House of Commons on Tuesday night an interesting debate took place on the petition of the people of Nova Scotia against the Canadian Union act.

Mr. JOHN BRIGHT moved that a commission be appointed to inquire into the causes of the discontent in Nova Scotia in regard to the operation of the act of Confederation.

Mr. BRIGHT supported his motion with a speech, in which he declared that an investigation into this matter could not be otherwise than advantageous. If it was refused, the people of Nova Scotia would feel that they were victims of a policy with which they did not and could not sympathize. Such refusal would increase their hostility to Canada, estrange them from England and give a powerful stimulus to their sympathy with the United States. Justice and generosity to the people of Nova Scotia demanded this inquiry. The Ministry would be greatly to blame should any untoward event result from a refusal to grant this demand.

Mr. WM. E. BAXTER, member for Montrose, seconded the motion made by Mr. BRIGHT.

Right Hon. C. B. ADDERLEY, Under Secretary of the Colonial Department, rose to reply for the Government. He acknowledged that discontent prevailed in the Porvince of Nova Scotia. He took occasion to deny the correctness of a statement made by Mr. BRIGHT in a speech on the 15th of last May, to the effect that the passage of the Canadian Union act in Parliament here was not final, but merely preliminary to its confirmation, by the acts of the Legislatures of each of the Provinces concerned. The right honorable gentleman continued by declaring that the appointment of this Commission of Inquiry would be a great evil, and would be considered an insult by the Dominion of Canada. He informed the House that steps had been taken by the Government to allay the present feeling in the North American Provinces. He said this feeling was not so bitter as had been represented, for the acts of the Canadian Parliament, sitting at Ottawa, had since been approved of by Nova Scotia, and whatever discontent still existed would rapidly disappear, as the people of that Province had no reason now to apprehend an increase of taxation or expenditure.

After further discussion a division of the House took place on Mr. BRIGHT's motion, and resulted as follows:

For the Commission of Inquiry	87
Against	181
Majority against	94

Later in the evening the Irish Church Appointments Suspensory bill was passed to a third reading.

Porfirio Diaz Proclaimed President by a Revolutionary Party—Yellow Fever at Vera Cruz—Movements of Aureliano Rivera.

NEW-ORLEANS, La., Wednesday, June 17.

The Brownsville Ranchero, of the 13th inst., contains the following dispatch, dated Zitacuaro, the 24th ult:

"Gens. BETANZAS and LEON UGALDE, with 400 followers, have proclaimed Gen. PORFIRIO DIAZ President of the Republic, and declare that the Constitution of 1857 shall be maintained inviolate."

Yellow fever of a dangerous type and epidemic in form, is raging at Vera Cruz.

Monterey dates to the 6th inst. state that the Mexican Congress was still in session.

The Minister of War had ordered the authorities at Vera Cruz to dismantle the land fortifications, store away the artillery and rent the buildings now used as barracks.

AURELIANO RIVERA made an attempt to take the town of Tranguistengo, but was repulsed by the citizens. He has since stationed armed bodies of his followers at different places along the road to Carranco, with orders to collect a tax of $1 a load on all provisions intended for the capital.

Tranquillity now reigns in all the towns.

FOREIGN NEWS BY MAIL.

ARRIVAL OF THE CUNARD STEAMSHIP AUSTRALASIAN.

The Cunard steamship Australasian, which left Liverpool June 6 and Queenstown June 7, arrived at this port yesterday with two days' later news than was at hand by the Ville de Paris and Allemannia.

The London papers announce the death, after a short illness, of the Earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot, at the comparatively early age of sixty-four.

The French journals say that the country presents a magnificent appearance, and the promise of large crops has everywhere caused a fall in the price of corn. At the last market of Arlon the diminution was from 13f. to 15f., and yet the bakers have not reduced the price of bread.

The Moniteur announces in its bulletin that the Bey of Tunis in the letter which was remitted to the French Consul, expresses his regret at the temporary suspension of diplomatic relations between the two countries. He expresses the wish to see them reestablished on the former footing of friendship. The Bey notifies his adhesion to the formation of a financial commission charged with the settlement of reciprocal interests.

Count DE SARTIGES has revived the question of the Cardinal's hat for the Archbishop of Paris. It appears that the Emperor NAPOLEON has promised to make him a Senator on the day he obtains this concession; so the Count is now interested for himself as well as the Archbishop, and will take no refusal. Nevertheless, the Pope adheres to his decision, which he reiterated the other day in these words: "Let the Archbishop retract, and become reconciled to his brethren in the Episcopate, and obtain their approval, and I shall not hesitate to give him the purple." This answer has greatly incensed Count DE SARTIGES, and he has complained of the Pope to several Roman dignitaries, using language which is deeply resented at the Vatican.

The released Abyssinian captives, including twenty men, eight women, twenty-two children and twenty-one followers, had arrived at Suez.

AUSTRIA AND ROME.

The Abrogation of the Concordat—The Emperor of Austria Seeks and Obtains the Forgiveness of the Pope.

Rome (May 30) Correspondence of the Pall Mall Gazette.

Monsignor HAYNALD, Archbishop of Koloiza, in Hungary, the friend and confidant of the Emperor of Austria, recently arrived here with an autograph letter from his Imperial Majesty to the Pope, and charged with a secret mission. Some time ago the Emperor, through Count CRIVELLI, promised the Holy Father that he would withhold his sanction from the new religious laws passed by the Austrian Chambers, and his letter informs His Holiness that he has been obliged to give way on the question, as the public feeling it excited left him no alternative but abdication. The object of the Archbishop of Koloiza was to reconcile the Pope to this defection, and he has done his best in the matter, having had several interviews with the Holy Father, and pleaded his cause with great earnestness. The eloquent prelate presented to His Holiness the evils which would result from the Emperor's abdication, dwelling particularly on the regency involved by the minority of his son, and pointing out the uncontrolled power that would thus be vested in hostile hands; and entreated the Holy Father not only to remit the Emperor's promise, but to give him in this emergency the benefit of that enlightenment which he received from Heaven. The piety and submission of the descendant of RUDOLPH of Hapsburg quite overcame the Pope, and the Archbishop is now carrying to Vienna an autograph letter from His Holiness, expressing the deepest commiseration for the pitiable situation of the Emperor, and stating that the Pope regards him as deprived of liberty, and not responsible for the acts he is obliged to do; consequently, he is not bound by them, and may be at peace with his conscience, provided he determines to take advantage of the first opportunity to abrogate such of the decrees as are contrary to the laws of God and the Church. The Archbishop was so elated with this success that he announced it to the Emperor by telegraph before he left Rome.

WEST INDIES AND MEXICO.

Arrival of the Steamship Morro Castle.

The steamship Morro Castle, which left Havana June 13, arrived at this port yesterday. Purser R. W. ALBERT has once more placed us under obligations to him for the prompt delivery of our Havana and Mexico letters and newspapers.

On June 11 a solemn high mass was celebrated in the Havana Cathedral for the repose of the soul of the late Marshal NARVAEZ.

An encounter between the Police and three noted bandits had occurred in the Moron Parish, near Remedios. Two of the bandits were killed.

A terrible hurricane swept over the Reunion on May 12 and 13, and caused great damage to the crops. The Mauritius also experienced its effects.

The news from Mexico is indicative of no change in the affairs of the Republic.

THE TURF.

The Jerome Park Spring Meeting—Fourth and Last Day's Racing—Connolly Wins the Jockey Club Handicap—Australian the Three-year-Old Sweepstakes—Bonnie Lass the Two-year-Old Sweepstakes, and Privateer the Feather Stakes.

A bright, clear morning, yesterday, ushered in the fourth and last day of the Spring meeting of the American Jockey Club at Jerome Park. The sudden change from the heavy rain storm of the preceding day to the delightful weather of yesterday, with the bright, warm sun and gentle, cooling breeze, was as agreeable as unexpected, and a vast number of the élite of New-York society embraced the opportunity to witness the last, and as it proved, the best day's racing of the meeting. The drive through the Central Park was a constant succession of elegant and fashionable equipages, prominent among which we noticed the splendid four-in-hand dark bays of Mr. AUGUST BELMONT, driven by himself; the four-in-hand grays of Mr. VYSE, and the superb four-in-hand of Mr. J. B. FELLOWS, driven by himself, wheelers and leaders all bays, admirably matched, and which, for perfectness of equipment, magnificent handling and speed, are acknowledged by the connoisseurs of the road to be unequaled in America, and, as a legitimate consequence, in the world. Among the many superb double teams on the road a pair of beautiful blacks, exquisitely matched, driven and owned by Mr. B. BENRIMO, most attracted our attention on the drive through the Park, and were also the subject of general admiration. The road, although heavy in some places, was in pretty fair order, and the numerous hostelries on the route were well patronized, that of the popular HARRY BARTHOLF coming in for the lion's share of the patronage of the travelers. The new Jerome Park-avenue, from McComb's bridge direct to the Course, just opened out for this meeting, is a great boon to the patronizers of fast driving, and will rapidly supersede the old road. The track was heavy and holding, although the efficient clerk of the Course, Mr. WHEATLEY, had used every exertion in getting it into condition by harrowing and brushing after the preceding day's heavy deluge. The services of the numerous force of Police, as well as those of the detectives detailed to prevent the admission of the chevaliers d'industrie, among whom we noticed Capt. JOHN YOUNG, GEORGE ELDER, FARLEY and EUSTACE, were scarcely ever brought into requisition, so select and respectable was the attendance.

The first race was the Jockey Club Handicap, a dash of two miles, and out of the twenty-three entries, only Beacon, Connolly, General Yorke and Clement started. The folly of renaming horses, and especially of causing such a confusion of names as was witnessed in the present instance, was never more palpable. The Vandal colt has borne the name of James A. Connolly for nearly two years, while the Lucy Fowler colt, owned by Mr. JOHN O'DONNELL, a gentleman of high estimation and position on the turf, was last year formally named Clement, after the gentleman rider in hurdle races for Col. MCDANIEL's stable. This year this colt has been rechristened Richard B. Connolly, in doubtful compliment to the Comptroller; but the public will not take to the new nomenclature, and persist in calling him Clement. In this race there were two Connollys in the field, but the pool auctioneer, in deference to the public feeling, ignored the new name, and sold the Lucy Fowler colt as Clement in all the pools. Connolly, the original, and "genuine Jacobs," was the favorite, and was freely backed against the field; Beacon, out of the formidable Kentucky stable of Capt. MOORE, being second favorite, Clement next and General Yorke last. In the pools Connolly sold for $205, Beacon $140 and Clement $47. Connolly made the running for the first mile and a quarter, when Clement, whose saddle had slipped on to his neck, from the rider's sawing at him in trying to hold him back, rushed past him, and led the way for a short distance. Connolly, however, regained the lead on the last turn, and after a magnificent race home won by a length; Clement three lengths before Beacon, and General Yorke last.

In the sweepstakes for three-year olds, dash of two miles, General Duke, Nemesis, Bonnie Braes and Australian started. Nemesis and General Duke, both winners at this meeting, (the latter carrying a penalty of 7 pounds for winning the Belmont Stakes,) were the favorites; Australian ranking lowest in estimation. The "glorious uncertainty of the turf" was never better illustrated, as well as the fact of the judgment of experienced turfmen being completely set at fault. Here was a three-year-old filly, well bred and racing-like in every respect, that had run a wonderfully good race with Bonnie Braes for the Ladies' Stake the day before, and after laying off several lengths behind the other horses all the way, coming with such a lightning rush at the finish that she passed all the others, and made the winner extend herself to the utmost to get home first. But in this race her claims to notice were overlooked except by a few shrewd observers, and Nemesis, General Duke and Bonnie Braes monopolized all the attention of the speculators. Making nearly the whole of the running, she upset the pots on Nemesis and General Duke, who had been backed for a tremendous deal of money, by winning a splendid race from the General by a length in 3:54¾.

The Two-year-old sweepstakes brought out eight runners, Mr. CAMERON starting three, Glen Nevis, Glengary and Invernglass; Col. MCDANIEL, his wonderfully fleet filly Bonnie Lass; Mr. BELMONT, Fenian; Mr. SANFORD, The Nun; Mr. JEROME, Rapture; and Mr. PURDY, the fancifully named Ouida. The race was entirely between Bonnie Lass and Fenian, the former winning on a canter, with Invernglass third.

The Feather Stakes had five runners, Aldebaran, Local, Onward, Privateer, Fleetwing and Aldebaran started to make the running for Local, and if the latter could not win, he was to do so himself. Local, lame at starting, could not live the pace, and Aldebaran tried to cut down Privateer, who worked patiently for three miles, leaving Aldebaran and Onward to do the running, but failed in doing so, and the bold Privateer won the race in 7:48. He was, however, so dreadfully distressed after the race that it was doubtful if he would recover from its effects.

THE JOCKEY CLUB HANDICAP,

for all ages, two miles, had only three starters out of the twenty-nine entries. These were James A. Connolly, Clement, General Yorke and Beacon. In pools Connolly sold for $205, Beacon $140, Clement $47, General Yorke $25. Connolly and Beacon got off together, Clement being last, and on passing the stand on the first mile Connolly was leading Clement, whose saddle had slipped on to his neck, by half a length. Rounding the Club-house hill Clement got his head in front, and kept the lead until approaching the home-stretch, when Connolly shot past him, and after a magnificent race home, won by a length in 3:48¾; Clement three lengths before Beacon and General Yorke beaten off.

FIRST RACE—Jockey Club Handicap, for all ages; two miles; $100 entrance, half forfeit, $20 if declared; $1,000 added by the Club. Closed with twenty-nine entries.

These were Local and Aldebaran, from Dr. WELDON's stable; Fleetwing, from Mr. JEROME's; Privateer, from Capt. MOORE's, and Onward, from Mr. MORRIS'. The rider of the latter made too much use of him, and after going three miles the race lay between him and Privateer; the latter after a very punishing race, in which both were thoroughly exhausted, winning by three lengths. Onward was third, and Local pulled up last. Preliminary to their State Convention the two factions of the Maine Democracy are having a lively struggle for the mastery, the war wing wishing to run for Governor their oft-defeated candidate Hon. E. F. PILLSBURY, while the peace men want "Col." GORHAM L. BOYNTON. The former, who are largely in the majority, support CHASE or HANCOCK for the Presidency.

THE NAVAL ACADEMY.

Annual Examination at Annapolis—Address to the Graduating Class—Names of Graduates.

Special Correspondence of the New-York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Wednesday, June 10, 1868.

After the conferring of diplomas the battalion was drawn up in line, and the members of the graduating class were ordered to the front. Lieut.-Gov. SCOTT, of Iowa, then delivered an address to the class, in which he adjured them not to forget that they received their certificates within the shadow of that dome which covers the spot where WASHINGTON returned his commission to the people from whom it came, and ever to bear in mind the lesson of that hour—that the true patriot is one who assumes power for the benefits to be thereby conferred upon his country. After alluding to the achievements of the navy in times past, Gov. SCOTT concluded as follows:

"By all these memories and hopes—by what you owe to your country—by all that you are now or may hereafter become—let me adjure you to walk worthy of the vocation to which you are called. If you should fail, when fail you must, strike not your colors, but, like those of the gallant Cumberland, let the flag still mark the spot where, battling to the last, even your failure was greater than the success of common men."

The result of the examinations was in the highest degree creditable to the instructors of the Academy and to the pupils under their charge.

Gas Monopoly.

NEW-YORK, Wednesday, June 17, 1868.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I would like to call the attention of yourself and that of your readers to a printed notice on the bills of the Manhattan Gas Company of the last month, to the effect that the price of their gas from and after the 15th June inst., will be $3 per thousand feet, instead of $2 50 as heretofore. Upon inquiring at the office of the Company, by what act of the Legislature, or by what other authority the price has been so materially increased, I am informed that the Company have abandoned their charter, and intend now to conduct their business under the General Manufacturing act—and they claim the right to charge $3 per thousand feet for their gas, or any other price they may think proper. The question immediately suggests itself, what right has a private corporation to lay down pipes, and to hold and exercise franchises in the public streets?

Perhaps yourself or some of your readers may be able to answer the question satisfactorily. It might be worth while for some of the hotel proprietors or other large consumers of gas to get a legal opinion on this question.

In view of the enormous dividends which the Company is said to have divided from the former rate, the community can hardly be expected to submit quietly to the new exaction without having some more light upon the subject. J. H. S.

SINGULAR CASE OF ALLEGED POISONING.—Yesterday Dr. EDWARD MORITZ, No. 74 Hester-street, called at the Tenth Precinct Station House, and reported that Mrs. EMMA JONES, whom he was attending at No. 89½ Hester-street, was dangerously ill, and as he was not certain from her symptoms that she was not suffering from the effects of poison, he had deemed it his duty to report the case for the action of the authorities. In consequence of this statement of Dr. MORITZ, the Coroner's office was at once notified, and Coroner ROLLINS proceeded to the house, but on his arrival the woman had already become speechless, and it was impossible to hold an ante-mortem investigation as was intended. In a few minutes she died, and Coroner FLYNN, who had then assumed the case, will hold an inquest this morning. It was intended to make a post-mortem examination of the body of the deceased last evening but it was not done, and hence the affair is still enveloped in all its original mystery.

THE NATIONAL SHOOTING FESTIVAL.—At the meeting of the Committee of Organization, held last night in the Germania Assembly Rooms, the headquarters of the Schutzenbund, the programme adopted and published before has been reconsidered and some new and interesting features added to its many attractions. There will be tableaux vivants, ascensions of balloons, prize wrestling, and a contest in running, &c. The Fest-hall is nearly finished. Yesterday the roof was put up; the ceiling is nearly laid, and the painters will begin their work to-day. The place for erection of a tent for surgical need in case of any accident has been selected close by the shooting hall. Of the prizes received yesterday, the following may be mentioned: WHITE, the hatter, a genuine Panama hat, additional prize for the best shooter, worth at least $80; one set of elegant garden furniture, by Messrs. GUNZ & STUMP, Beekman-street; the National Arms Company, Brooklyn, an elegant six-barreled revolver, with ammunition, worth $40, and many other articles of like or greater value.

A CHOICE PLACE IN THE BEAUTIFUL SADDLE RIVER VALLEY FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Noted for the beauty of its landscape, the purity of its air, the number and swiftness of its water courses. The "Saddle River Country" is rapidly becoming a favorite resort, especially for those with whom health is a prime consideration. It is unquestionably the healthiest locality within an hour's ride of the City. The owner of a beautiful and home-like place, which has been brought to a high state of cultivation and productiveness, affording every accessory for convenience and enjoyment, offers the same for sale upon desirable terms. The property consists of forty-one acres of fertile soil, so well proportioned in its features as to be quite a "model farm," having a due regard to meadow, orchards, grain fields, gardens and ornamental grounds. The latter contain numerous fine trees, lawns and carriage-way, and a pond which, with trifling improvement, can be made a delightful "attachment." The buildings comprise, beside the residence, the following, each especially built for and perfectly adapted to its purposes, viz.: Stable, with box stall, 21x27 feet; harness room, 11x12 feet; carriage house, 21x41 feet; granary, 17x21 feet; fowl-house, basement, &c., 21x12 feet; tool-house, &c., 24x37 feet; barn, 30x40 feet; washrooms, coal, &c., 16x32 feet; ice-house and dairy, 14x21 feet. Force pump in barn-yard, cistern and well. The beautiful Saddle River running along the eastern side of the property, together with a trout brook on the place, renders it particularly well watered. The residence (a brown-stone cottage) has been recently remodeled at much expense, having hot and cold water, range, stationary tubs, &c. The plumbing alone was done at a cost of over $700. The location is on the Mid-Valley Road, three-fourths of a mile from the picturesque station of Hohokus, on the New-York & Erie Railway, 24 miles from the City, with numerous trains at convenient hours. Commutation rates on this favorite road are cheaper than on any other railway running from the City. Price $30,000; two-thirds of which can remain on bond and mortgage, or will exchange for desirable City property. For further particulars call upon or address
N. ORR, No. 32 John-st., New-York.

YACHTING.

Regatta of the Atlantic Club—A Pleasant Day but Little Breeze—An Undecided Contest and a Postponement till Friday.

The third annual regatta of the Atlantic Yacht Club of Brooklyn took place yesterday. The race was not an exciting one. The wind, which was variable, veering from south to southwest, was so light most of the time that doubts were early expressed whether the contest could be brought to a close before nightfall, and the event proved that they were well-founded. In the morning, through a heavy fog, most of the vessels were towed from the anchorage at Gowanus Bay to the starting point off the Delaplaine House. Here they anchored in three lines. The second-class sloops took up a position to the south, the other yachts to the windward off the Club harbor, with jibs down. The steamboat Wyoming, with the guests of the Club, ladies and gentlemen, and a band of music on board, left the foot of Montague-street, Brooklyn, at 9:30 A. M., and arrived off the stake-boat about 10 o'clock. At this time many of the yachts were not in position, and it was not until ten minutes before 11 o'clock that everything was in readiness for the race.

The course to be sailed over was down the Bay, through the Narrows to a stake-boat off Coney Island Point, which the yachts rounded from east to west, passing between the shore and the stake-boat; then to and around the Southwest Spit buoy, passed from east to west; and thence home east of the buoys on the West Bank to the stake-boat at the place of starting. The Minnie, owned by THOMAS MANNING; the Bonita, owned by JOHN B. MORRIS; the Athene, owned by GEORGE H. SEELEY, and the Minnie, formerly the Aurelia, owned by GEORGE G. WELLS, could not be got in readiness in time and did not start in the race.

At the hour above-named two whistles were blown from the Wyoming as the signal to get ready, and at 10:50 her colors were dropped for the start. The following were the vessels that participated in the contest:

SCHOONERS.

Name.	Tonnage.	Owner.
Mystic	40	Thomas C. Lyman.
Aiga	18	J. C. Gregory.

FIRST-CLASS SLOOPS.

Name.	Tonnage.	Owner.
White Wing	35	J. B. Norris.
Addie V.	35	W. Voorhies.
Alarm	30	T. W. Sheridan.
Clytie	18	J. B. Hereshoff.
Qui Vive	18	Fitch Taylor.
Agnes	20	E. Harvey.
Fannie	18	J. R. Halsey.
Niagara	18	J. W. Ritchie.
Onward	18	W. C. Fowler.
Galatea	12	S. V. Lowell, D. J. Deane.

SECOND-CLASS SLOOPS.

Name.	Length, ft.	Owner.
Salus	35	H. C. Warton.
Peerless	30	J. R. Maxwell.
Hermit	30	Leslie Wetmore.
Martha	28	William Brasher.
Marion	28	H. H. Hogins.
Hector	26	William Peet.
Florence	24	H. Seymour Schell.
Lavine	30	S. F. Spear.

At 10:59 o'clock the second-class sloops started, in one minute after the first-class sloops, and in one minute after that the schooners. The Lois was to have sailed in the regatta, but broke her patent centre-board just before the start, and was withdrawn. The Clyde took the lead at the start, with the Peerless and the Martha close behind, and the Lavine not far off. The schooners were soon withdrawn, the breeze being too light for them, and the other vessels made slow progress. Near the Narrows the Lavine took the lead, but Clytie's enormous balloon jib was well filled at this time, and she kept close to the Lavine. At the Coney Island Point stake boat the following was the order of the turning: Lavine, 1:21.13; Clytie, 1:21.20; Martha, 1:24.13; Niagara, 1:40.10; Fannie, 1:45.53; Salus, 1:47.31; Florence, 1:50.53; Peerless, 1:55.58; Hermit, 1:56.40; Galatea, 1:57.25; Agnes, 2:05.54.

Soon after leaving this point the Niagara shot ahead and maintained the lead—the foremost yachts arriving in the following order and times at the Southwest Spit buoy: Niagara, 4:24.30; Lavine, 4:32.15; Clytie, 4:34.30.

While the sailing vessels were thus slowly making headway, those on board of the steamer were having a merry time, liberal provisions for their guests had been made by the Committee, and all went pleasantly until it became evident that the race would not end till a late hour. The Wyoming, at 6:30 P. M., returned to the foot of Montague-street, landed the lady passengers, and then went down the Bay again to watch the contesting vessels. These were gradually forging up toward the starting point, but many of the larger vessels had given over the contest for want of a breeze; the White had been disabled, and finally it was decided that, the eight hours within which by the rules the winning vessel must reach the goal having expired, the regatta should be postponed till Friday next, 10 o'clock A. M. On that day the yachts will start once more from Gowanus Bay, and it is to be hoped that they may have more favorable gales.

The New-York Club Regatta To-day.

The annual regatta of the New-York Yacht Club takes place to-day, and if we have such weather as we had yesterday, with a little stronger breeze, will doubtless be a magnificent affair. The following are the entries:

SLOOPS—Addie V., entered by W. VOORHIS; Clytie, entered by J. B. HERRESHOFF; Gussie, by H. STEERS; White Wing, by S. HOMANS.

SCHOONERS—Dauntless, by J. G. BENNETT, Jr.; Fleur de Lis, by J. S. DICKERSON; Idler, by T. C. DURANT; Magic, by G. L. LORILLARD; Pauline, by C. R. PENNIMAN; Rambler, by F. SKIDDY; Sappho, by P. POILLON; Silvie, by E. DODGE.

The starting point will be the Judges' boat, moored off the new Club-house at Clifton, Staten Island whence the yachts will sail down the Bay, around the lightship and home, a distance of about forty miles. The Regatta Committee's steam-tug will leave the foot of Desbrosses-street at 9 A. M., conveying members of the Club and invited guests. It will touch at the Lower Landing, Staten Island, after the start. Ladies accompanying ticket holders are to be admitted to the boat. In the evening there will be a fête champêtre at the Club-house. The grounds will be brilliantly illuminated, and doubtless the evening will be spent very merrily.

The new Club-house at Clifton is delightfully situated, about half a mile below Vanderbilt's Landing. It commands a magnificent view of the Bay and of the great Metropolis in the distance. The grounds, which comprise about three and a half acres, are tastefully laid out and slope down to the water. The building is a pretty cottage, two stories high, which will hardly be sufficiently commodious for the Club, if the latter continues to increase in numbers as it has done recently. It is elegantly furnished and is neatly kept by CHAS. SAPPAH, the East Indian steward, whose merits as a cook are greatly praised by the members of the Club. On the walls are hung models of the various yachts belonging to the Club. In the dining-room is a fine portrait of JOHN C. STEVENS, the first Commodore of the Club, who held that position for e even years.

Brooklyn Yacht Club Union Regatta.

It is proposed by the Brooklyn Yacht Club to give, on the 25th of June, a Union regatta, free of entrance to all yachts belonging to any recognized Yacht Club in the vicinity of New-York. The four prizes to be given on the occasion will be given to the winner of each class of yachts, as follows: First class, schooners; second class, sloops, first division; third class, sloops, second division; fourth class, open boats 26 feet and over in length. All yacht owners are invited to enter their yachts and contest for the prizes to be given, which, it is announced, will be in value worthy of the occasion. The sailing regulations will be those of the Brooklyn Yacht Club. Entries are to be made with W. T. LEE, Secretary, Box No. 4,922 New-York Post Office, on or before June 22.

The Hudson River Amateur Rowing Association.

The Hudson River Amateur Rowing Association, which comprises the different boat clubs belonging to the City of New-York, held their opening day by a marine muster and drill on the river yesterday afternoon. The following clubs were represented on the occasion:

ATALANTA CLUB—Six-oared boat Atalanta, barge Excelsior, with coxswain and eight oars, and six-oared boat David Banks, Jr.

ATLANTIC CLUB—Six-oared boat Our Jessie.

WAVERLEY CLUB—Four-oared boat Ivanhoe.

PALISADE CLUB—Eight-oared boat Palisade.

COLUMBIA CLUB—Six-oared boat.

GULICK CLUB—Six-oared boat, eight-oared barge, double-scull boat.

HUDSON CLUB—Six-oared boat Winona, six-oared boat Hudson, eight-oared boat Shatemuc.

VESPER CLUB—Double-scull boat, single-scull boat.

The clubs assembled in the order given, and were reviewed by the Commodore, DAVID BANKS, Jr., off the Elysian Fields, where the different crews in their handsome uniforms and caps made a very showy appearance. The steamer Deer, with a number of invited guests on board, accompanied the boats in their voyage up the river as far as Pleasant Valley, and there had dinner. Speeches were made, and it was late in the evening before the crews assembled to pull down the river. The opening, as it is called, was not as numerously attended as in former years, but in promptness of moving the new Commodore far exceeds all his predecessors, as it did not take him more than twenty-five minutes to get all the boats in line and ready for stroke.

Rutgers College Commencement.

Special Correspondence of the New-York Times.

NEW-BRUNSWICK, Wednesday, June 17, 1868.

In the eyes of the young Collegians, and in the estimation of the public, this is the most important day in the exercises of the week. It attracts a vast concourse of people from the surrounding country, as well as from the neighboring cities. All persons having friends residing here find it a convenient time to visit them, so that from all these accessions the town is full to overflowing, and many strangers find it difficult to obtain beds. Many of the rooms of mine host have been engaged for a year ahead.

Mine host and his household were kept extremely busy last evening and far into the night preparing a midnight feast for two societies of students, and these kept nearly the whole house awake with their boisterous hilarity. But we must expect to overlook much at a time like this, which would appear unbearable at any other. It might be well, however, to scatter the good things through the year, and not accumulate too much upon the head of Commencement.

The morning was cloudy and hot, but no rain has fallen during the day. The procession formed at 10 o'clock and moved to the church, which was, as usual, well filled. Among the notables present were Hon. Marcus Ward, Governor of the State; Hon. A. O. Zabriskie, Chancellor; Ex-Gov. Vroom; Hon. F. F. Frelinghuysen, United States Senator; Judge A. Lott; Hon. Peter S. Danforth, and others.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. G. ABEEL, D. D., of Newark, N. J. The members of the graduating classes then pronounced their orations in the following order, viz.:

V. B. CARROLL, Williamsburg, N. Y., "Latin Salutatory;" F. FRELINGHUYSEN, Newark, "English Salutatory;" R. SEYMOUR SMITH, Waterloo, "Philosophical Oration;" A. CROSBY, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., "The Right;" V. R. WESTON, New-Brunswick, "The Goal Attained;" W. E. DAVIS, Gilderland Center, N. Y., "Party Spirit;" W. H. RANKIN, Newark, "Power of Music;" A. J. SWIFT, New Brunswick, "What is the Use;" C. DUBOIS, Hudson, N. Y., "Love of Praise;" A. MERCER, Newark, "Courage;" G. R. VROOM, Trenton, "Political Science;" H. A. DRAKE, Hopewell, "General Welfare;" P. G. M. BAHLER, Albany, "Necessity of Trials;" E. BENEDICT, Pleasantville, N. Y., "Wealth and Self;" M. H. FORREST, New-York, "Singleness of Purpose;" T. M. STRONG, Ithaca, N. Y., "Perseverance not Accident."

The degree of A. B. was then conferred upon the eighteen members of the Graduating Class.

The degree of Bachelor of Science was conferred upon the following graduates of the Scientific School: Chas. Barnes, Ed. A. Bouser, G. Hageman, George Howell, Wm. E. Kelly, Ed. C. Pearson, F. M. Vanderoof.

The degree of A. M. was given in course to J. K. Allen, R. M. Brown, J. A. J. Davis, Wm. H. De Hart, R. Denise, A. Floyd, J. E. Hasbrouck, Jos. B. Mann, H. Stout, F. C. Van Dyck, J. W. Wamshuis, A. Westveer.

The degree of D. D. was conferred upon Rev. Hugh Hamill, Lawrenceville, N. J.; Rev. R. B. Welch, Professor in Union College; Rev. John A. Todd, Tarrytown, N. Y.; Rev. Theodore B. Romeyn, Hackensack, N. J.

The degree of LL.D. was conferred upon Hon. Ezra Cornell, Ithaca, N. Y., the founder of the Cornell University.

The following prizes were awarded:

In the Senior Class—The Broadhead Prize, for excellence in the Classics, to Van Renssalaer Weston; the Suydam Prize, for proficiency in Natural Science, to H. A. Drake; the Suydam Prize, for Composition, to B. B. Carroll; the Bradley Mathematical Prize, to Edward Benedict.

Junior Class—The Schureman Prize for Composition, to W. E. Griffis.

Sophomore Class—The Myron W. Smith Oratorical Prizes—First, to Willett Denike; second, to George R. Garretson.

The First Scientific Class—The Prize for Mineralogy, to L. Floyd M. Van Deroeff.

Prizes for Best Theses—First, to Edward A. Bowser; second, to Wm. E. Kelly.

After the degrees had been conferred the Master's Oration was delivered by JOHN R. ALLEN, and was an excellent production. The Valedictory Oration was then pronounced by Mr. EDWARD C. THOMAS, of New-Brunswick. This oration was creditable to its author and the institution. The exercises closed with the Benediction by Rev. JAMES LEFEVRE, of Raritan. Thus closed the public exercises of one of the most pleasant Commencement days we have ever attended in Alma Mater. The Trustees and Alumni united in a collation in Green Hall. After removing the cloth, PETER A. VOORHEES, Esq., read a statement concerning Mr. ABRAHAM VOORHEES, of Six Mile Run, who had recently bequeathed over $51,000 to this College. The example was a noble one for a plain farmer and worthy of imitation. Addresses were also made by Prof. SCOTT, Dr. BERG and JOS. B. MANN, Esq., and thus, with the feast of reason and the flow of soul, the time of separation came. The feast ended and the guests departed.

POLITICAL.

Organization of a New Democratic Club.

An adjourned meeting of a number of gentlemen was held in the parlors of the St. Augustine Hotel, No. 32 East Fourteenth-street, last evening, for the purpose of perfecting the organization of a new Democratic Campaign Club. The meeting was presided over by Mr. JOHN L. SLINGERLAND as temporary Chairman, and Mr. JOHN T. HENNESSEY acted as Secretary.

A committee previously appointed reported a constitution and by-laws, which, after considerable discussion and material alterations, were adopted. The name of "Excelsior Campaign Club" was objected to as baseballish, and an amendment to substitute Excelsior Conservative Club ran counter to the Democratic feelings of Hon. A. J. ROGERS, and finally, upon motion and argument of Judge P. C. WRIGHT, the name of "Metropolitan Democratic Club" was selected. The last article of the constitution prescribes that the applicant for membership "shall be of good character, manner and appearance," and was adopted without objection, notwithstanding its partisan revolutionary tendency.

After providing the Club with a set of laws and rules the meeting ordered that an election for President, ten Vice-Presidents, two Recording Secretaries, a Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer shall occur prior to the nominations of the National Democratic Convention, and then adjourned.

Union Republican Movements in Brooklyn.

The Kings County Union Republican General Committee, at a special meeting, have decided to hold a grand at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, Montague-street, on the evening of the 14th of July, when distinguished gentlemen from various parts of the country will advocate the claims of the Chicago Convention nominees, GRANT and COLFAX, and the adaptability of the platform to the present national crisis.

PRIMARIES.

The Union Republican primary elections will be held by the various ward and town organizations, on Monday evening, the 29th of June, to elect five delegates from each to the Assembly District Conventions on the evening of the 2d of July, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention to be held at Syracuse on the 8th of July.

WARD AND TOWN MEETINGS.

The General Committee have decided that instead of holding large mass meetings during the campaign at the Academy of Music, which they regard as an expensive luxury, (costing the sum of $500 per night in addition to other expenses,) recommend the organization of Ward and Town Grant and Colfax Clubs for the purpose of engaging halls in their respective localities for the holding of campaign meetings, a list of the officers of such organizations to be kept at General Committee Headquarters, so as to facilitate the distribution of documents, &c.

DELEGATES FROM THE TWO NEW WARDS.

Brooklyn has now as many Wards as New-York, the last Legislature having added the Twenty-first Ward, a slice of the Ninth Ward, and the Twenty-second being a slice of the Eighth. The formation of these Wards having occasioned four vacancies in each of the old Wards, the Eighth and the Ninth, the new delegates to fill said vacancies were admitted to seats in the General Committee.

THE PROSPECT.

The General Committee has got its work of organization in very complete shape, and the arrangements look as if they were well prepared for the conduct of a vigorous campaign.

New Democratic Headquarters.

The Democratic General Committee have fitted up a new headquarters at the corner of Court and Remsen streets, where they intend to conduct the destinies of the Brooklyn branch of the party in the future. A transparency 23 feet long and 9 feet high has been procured, and when the 4th of July nominations shall be made, they will be at once painted and hung out for public view.

Board of Education.

This Board met last evening in the hall, corner of Grand and Elm streets, President LARREMORE in the chair.

Mr. E. P. WORTH offered his resignation as Principal of Grammar School No. 18, which was accepted.

A communication from thirty-five school janitors, asking for an increase of salaries, was read and referred to the Committee on Buildings.

Commissioner DUPIGNAC offered the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, The great increase of attendance in the schools under the control of this Board, and the large number of school buildings erected, or in course of erection, have compelled the Superintendent of Schools and his two higher assistants, also the Superintendent of School Buildings and his engineer, to devote a great deal more labor and attention to the duties of their respective departments than hitherto; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it be referred to the Finance Committee to take into consideration the propriety of increasing the salaries of the officers above named; and that the said Committee be also authorized to consider the propriety of paying additional compensation to other employes of the Board, if they are not now adequately paid.

The preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted.

The Committee on Warming and Ventilation recommended the appropriation of moneys for repairing heating apparatus in a number of school buildings, and for the purchase of a newly-patented stove for new buildings. These stoves, the Committee said, are of a superior kind, costing but $75 each, and saving a great deal in the matter of fuel. The fire will require kindling only once at the beginning of Winter, and an even degree of temperature may be maintained during the entire season by attending to the stove occasionally. There are also advantages in the matter of ventilation, secured by the peculiar scientific construction of the apparatus. It is surrounded by a double jacket, so that the sides cannot become sufficiently heated to burn the persons or clothing of the pupils, or to produce any discomfort of scholars sitting in the immediate vicinity of the same. The sums asked for were $5,350 for repairs to old apparatus, and $7,000 for the patented stoves referred to, to be used in Primary School No. 12, Fourth Ward; Grammar School No. 57, Twelfth Ward, and Grammar School No. 58, in the Twenty-second Ward.

The recommendations were referred to the Finance Committee.

The sum of $10,000 was appropriated for repairing and painting Grammar School-houses Nos. 10, 35 and 47 in the Fifteenth Ward.

A resolution authorizing the Trustees of the various Wards to close the public schools at 2 o'clock in the afternoon daily, or to dismiss the pupils at 1 o'clock, (dispensing in that case with the noon recess,) tabled at the previous meeting, was called up, and after a great deal of discussion, was passed by a close vote.

The Board then adjourned until the 1st prox.

Court of Common Pleas.

Before Judge John R. Brady.

John J. Quin, &c., vs. The Mayor.—The plaintiff brings this action as the guardian of his son, John Quin, a lad 17 years of age. In December, 1865, at about dusk, he was passing along East Thirty-fifth-street, and came suddenly upon an excavation in the sidewalk. Attempting to leap the hole he fell into it, some 18 inches deep, and broke his leg. He now sues for $5,000 damages.

The Corporation Counsel moved for a non-suit on the ground that the boy had seen the excavation on the morning of the same day and knew of its existence, and on the further ground that no notice of the dangerous condition of the hole was given to the Corporation until two days after the accident.

The motion for non-suit was denied, and the case went to the jury with direction to bring in a sealed verdict.

The jury came in this morning, and announced they could not agree.

A. A. Redfield for plaintiff; John K. Hackett for defendant.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

FATAL FALL.—An inquest was held at the Sixth Precinct Police Station yesterday, by Coroner SCHIRMER, over the remains of JOHN MCNAMARA, a native of Ireland, 19 years of age, whose death resulted from injuries sustained by a fall from the roof of the five-story tenement house, No. 8 Mulberry-street. From the testimony taken before the Coroner, it appears that at a late hour on Tuesday night, MCNAMARA, accompanied by EMMA DEVELIN, a young female of abandoned habits, went to sleep on the roof of the above-mentioned premises. They were both intoxicated. At about 4 o'clock in the morning, MCNAMARA's hat rolled off the roof into the street, and while endeavoring to recover it he strayed too near the edge of the roof, and losing his balance was precipitated to the sidewalk below, sustaining injuries which resulted in death while he was being conveyed to the New-York Hospital by Officer GRACE, of the Sixth Precinct, who had found him lying insensible on the sidewalk. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.

HARLEM BRIDGE AND PORTCHESTER RAILWAY.—A meeting of the newly elected Board of Directors of the Harlem Bridge and Portchester Railway Company was held in the City yesterday. THADDEUS DAVIDS, Esq., was called to the chair, and Mr. JOHN SCHUYLER officiated as Secretary. On motion of GOUVERNEUR M. WILKINSON, the Directors present proceeded to ballot for a President, Treasurer and Secretary to hold office during the pleasure of the Board. Messrs. LEWIS B. BROWN and HENRY B. CLARK were appointed tellers, who reported the result to be the choice of THADDEUS DAVIDS for President, A. W. GREENLEAF for Treasurer and JOHN SCHUYLER for Secretary. On motion of Mr. WILKINS J. H. WAINRIGHT, LEWIS B. BROWN and JOHN SCHUYLER were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions to the stock of this railroad, and report the names of persons disposed to encourage the enterprise at the next meeting to be held on the 24th.

PRESENTATION AT THE CUSTOM-HOUSE.—Mr. C. MOORE, Lieutenant of Night Inspectors at the Night Department of the New-York Custom-House, was last night the recipient of a well-merited compliment at the hands of his brother officers. A valuable gold-headed cane and silver pitcher, each bearing an appropriate inscription, and doing credit to the taste of Mr. SAMUEL J. CAMPBELL, who had the matter in charge, was presented to Mr. MOORE. Capt. D. D. BULLOCK made the presentation, and expressed very neatly the regret which the Night Inspectors as well as the Surveyor and Collector of the Port felt at the loss of Mr. MOORE's services. The recipient in response referred to the gratification always afforded him by the manner in which his brother officers coöperated with him in the discharge of their respective duties. He heartily thanked them for the unexpected tribute of respect they rendered him.

SUPPOSED INFANTICIDE.—ANN MOSACKER, the child of BERNARD and MARGARET MOSACKER, residing at No. 117 Elizabeth-street, died suddenly at 10 o'clock on Sunday night last, from convulsions. A certificate of death was given by Dr. BISHOP, of No. 317 Broome-street, and the child was buried on the afternoon of the 15th inst. After the funeral some of the female tenants in the neighborhood called on Capt. GARLAND, of the Fourteenth Precinct, and stated that they suspected that the child had been murdered by the parents, as the mother had been overheard to say that she wished the child was dead. Capt. GARLAND ordered the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. MOSACKER, and they were locked up at the Spring-street Police Station. Coroner SCHIRMER was notified, and caused the remains of the child to be exhumed, when it was found that death had resulted from natural causes. The parents of the child were thereupon discharged from custody.

THE POLLARD TROUBLES.—Yesterday EDWARD A. POLLARD, the Virginia editor and historian, was arrested in Brooklyn by Officer ANDRE, of the Second District Squad, upon a warrant obtained against him by his wife, MARIE POLLARD, on the 25th of May last, his alleged offence being an assault upon her. Mr. POLLARD was taken during the afternoon before Justice LEDWITH at the Jefferson Market Police Court, and by mutual consent of the parties the case was adjourned until this afternoon at two o'clock. There was no statement made to the Justice of the circumstances upon which the complaint is founded.

FENIAN MASS MEETING.—Last evening a mass meeting of the Fenian Brotherhood was held at Masonic Hall, Thirteenth-street, Mr. EDWARD MURPHY occupying the chair. Among the speakers were Gen. S. P. SPEAR, Major MCWILLIAMS and PATRICK DALY, all of whom pointed out the importance of putting forward bold and vigorous measures in behalf of the cause. With prompt action success would be the result of the movement already inaugurated. At the conclusion of the addresses, subscriptions were received in aid of Fenian regiments in this City. Several members of the Fourth Regiment Fenian Volunteers were present. The proceedings were not terminated till a late hour.

DONATIONS TO CENTRAL PARK.—Several very interesting donations have recently been made to the Central Park. The officers of the Seventh United States Cavalry have sent to the Commissioners, from their headquarters, at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, a fine specimen of a buffalo, captured by one of the officers of the regiment. E. S. DE LUCE, Chief Engineer, United States Navy, has presented a toucan, a rare bird, peculiar to Northern Brazil. ARTHUR LEARY, Esq., has presented a Turkish caique, brought from Constantinople expressly for the Park Lake, and Mr. ROBERT GORDON has presented a lapa from Maracaibo.

ALLEGED ABORTION—ROSA HIGGINS, a girl of about sixteen made a complaint under the bastardy act, against WILLIAM J. BABCOCK, a resident of Jersey City. The accused having been watched to this side of the river, was yesterday arrested and taken before Justice LEDWITH at the Jefferson Market Police Court, where statements were made that an abortion had been produced upon the girl through the instrumentality of this BABCOCK. The magistrate without investigating this charge, adjourned the matter until to-day. The prisoner who is a gray-haired man of reputable appearance was meantime committed in default of bail.

MEETING OF FRUIT GROWERS.—There is to be to-day, and also on the 25th inst., a strawberry exhibition and discussions on small fruits, at L. L. WHITLOCK's "All Nurseries In One," No. 245 Broadway. This is the commencement of a new enterprise, which will be continued from week to week during the period of small fruits. It is expected that the meeting will open about 2 o'clock, and that distinguished pomologists from various parts of the country will participate in the prospective discussions.

CATHOLIC FAIR.—The ladies of the new Parish of St. Bernard began their fair in the hall, West Thirteenth-street, near the corner of Tenth-avenue, on Monday evening, and will continue each evening until the 4th of July inclusively. The new parish has, as yet, no church, and the hall has been purchased as a temporary place of worship. The proceeds of the fair will be devoted toward liquidating a debt yet due upon the building. Rev. GABRIEL A. HEALY, late assistant clergyman at St. Peters, is the Pastor. A site is now being sought upon which to build a new church. On its completion the hall now in use will be devoted to a Catholic school.

The remains of the deceased were taken to his late residence, where Coroner FLYNN was notified to hold an inquest. OWEN DONOGHAN, who was in charge of the blast, was arrested for careless blasting.

A BURGLARY.—At an early hour yesterday morning the store of ALEXANDER FIELDS, No. 253 Grand-street, was entered by burglars through a side-window, and a small quantity of check flannel stolen. Suspicion attached to THOMAS ORMSBY and WILLIAM BROWN as being the guilty parties, and on being arraigned before Justice MANSFIELD, at the Essex Market Police Court, such evidence was adduced against them that they were committed in default of $1,000 bail each for trial at the General Sessions.

WYLIE, mate of the brig Melrose, lying at Pier No. 7 East River, who was drowned on Monday night last while attempting to board his vessel, floated near the spot where he fell overboard, and were made fast to the dock. SUICIDE OF A GERMAN.—An inquest was held yesterday by Coroner SCHIRMER at Bellevue Hospital, over the remains of RICHARD ADE, a German 49 years old, who, while temporarily insane, on Tuesday, the 9th inst., stabbed himself in the throat and abdomen with a sword. A verdict of suicide was rendered.

RAND'S PNEUMATIC GAS.

WARRANTED.

The Simplest, Safest, and Best Gas-Works in the World.

The gas made by these works is more uniform in quality than that made by any other known process.

The material need be supplied but once during the year, while all other apparatus used for making gas, such as are known as automatic machines especially, have to be supplied as often as weekly, semi-weekly, and daily.

The works being outside, and entirely separate from the dwelling house or building to be supplied with the gas, servants and others have no occasion to approach them.

All machinery being entirely dispensed with, these works can never get out of order.

The gas can be made for less than one-half of the price of coal-gas.

Enough gas can be made in from five to thirty minutes to supply dwellings, hotels, and factories using from twenty-five to one thousand burners.

Accidents are impossible, as the tank holding the liquid is placed in the ground surrounded by water and covered with the iron gas-holder.

It is the only portable gas-works that insurance companies do not class as extra hazardous.

We guarantee our gas-works to give satisfaction.

No skill is required to make this gas; a boy ten years old can make sufficient gas for ordinary dwellings in five minutes.

It is a cheap, cleanly, and convenient substitute for coal or wood to heat dwellings, and for all culinary operations, &c.

Those desiring further information will please send for descriptive circular to the Office of the Company, where working models may be seen.
